

UNIVERSITY OF PARIS CONFERS DEGREE ON WILSON

In Recognition of His Work As a Jurist and Historian

PARIS, Dec. 21.—In the great amphitheater of the University of Paris (the sorbonne) President Wilson this afternoon received the degree of doctor, honoris causa, conferred upon him in recognition of his work as a jurist and historian. This is the first time in the history of the university that an honorary degree has been bestowed, authorization for its granting having been given by a recent decree.

President Poincare, the president of the senate and chamber of deputies, members of the government and the highest civil and military authorities were present at the ceremony. Great crowds cheered the president when he arrived at the university accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, William Graves Sharp, the American ambassador and Jean Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States. Alfred Croiset, dean of the faculty of letters welcomed President Wilson in a short address and presented him the diploma of doctor as a testimonial to his work as an historian and in his writing on historical subjects.

Ferdinand Larnaud, dean of the faculty of law, then bestowed upon the president the degree of doctor for his works on jurisprudence and political science. Lucien Poincare, vice-rector of the university and brother of the president of the republic paid an eloquent tribute to President Wilson's ability as a professor before he entered upon his political career and told of the president's part in the war. In conclusion M. Poincare said:

"Glory to the American students! Glory to the eminent professors and their universities! Glory to you, Mr. President, who are first amongst them. In the name of the University of Paris I have the honor to award the insignia and diploma of doctor to one whom posterity will salute with the surname, The Righteous—President Wilson."

Acknowledges Honor.

President Wilson, in acknowledging the honor bestowed upon him today by the University of Paris in the form of a doctor's degree, said:

"I feel very keenly the distinguished honor which has been conferred upon me by the great University of Paris and it is very delightful to me also to have the honor of being inducted into the great company of scholars whose life and work have made the history of the University of Paris a thing admirable among men of cultivation in all parts of the world."

"By what you have said, sir, of the theory of education which has been followed in France and which I have tried to promote in the United States I am tempted to venture upon a favorite theme. I have always thought that the chief object of education was to awaken the spirit and that, inasmuch as a literature whenever it has touched its great and higher notes was an expression of the spirit of mankind the best education into education was to feel the humanity which was to be beaten from age to age thru the universities of men who had penetrated to the secrets of the human spirit."

"And I agree with the intimation which has been conveyed today that the terrible war thru which we have just passed has not only been a war between nations but that it has been also a war between systems of culture—the one system the aggressive plan, using science without conscience, stripping learning of its moral restraints and using every faculty of the human mind to do wrong to the whole race; the other system reminiscent of the high tradition of men, reminiscent of all their struggles, some of them obscure, but others closely revealed to history, of men of noble spirit, every where struggling towards the right and seeking above all things else to be free. The triumph of freedom in this war means that that spirit shall now dominate the world. There is a great wave of moral force moving thru the world and every man who opposes himself to that wave will go down in disgrace."

Touche Peace Conference

"The task of those who are gathered here, or will presently be gathered here to make the settlements of this peace is greatly simplified by the fact that they are the servants of no one; they are the servants of mankind. And if we do not heed the mandates of mankind we shall make ourselves the most conspicuous and deserved failures in the history of the world."

"My conception of the league of nations is just this—that it shall operate as the organized moral force of men thruout the world and that whenever or wherever wrong and aggression are planned or contemplated this searching light of conscience will be turned upon them and men everywhere will ask: 'What are the purposes that you hold in your heart against the fortunes of the world?'"

Half a Million Italians Lose Lives in War

PARIS, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Five hundred thousand Italians lost their lives in the war. Of this number 200,000 were killed in action. This statement was made to the correspondent today by Salvatore Barballi, former member of the Italian cabinet who accompanied King Victor Emmanuel to Paris in explaining Italy's sacrifices and her claim to territories previously held by the enemy.

Signor Barballi said:

"On the eve of the peace conference where Italy must claim the territories due her for reasons of nationality it is well the world should know the sacrifices sustained by her. All Italians trust America as an impartial judge."

"Italy lost 500,000 dead. To those actually killed in battle must be added 300,000 who died of disease, particularly malaria, contracted in Albania, Macedonia and long the Piave. The Italians severely wounded numbered 300,000 while 500,000 of the 5,000,000 called to the colors were taken prisoner."

"The enormity of her sacrifices makes Italy's case exacting in demanding restitution of the regions along the eastern Adriatic which Austria oppressed for a century and attempted to denationalize and also places her in the vanguard of the movement to prevent future wars. Having once obtained what you might call the doors to her own house, Italy adheres to a league of nations, having as a corollary freedom of the seas."

"A league of nations must have as fundamental nucleus the entire countries and America to which the others may join later."

"A central body constituting the supreme court of the league, must have legislative power limited to international affairs, judicial power for the application of its rules and executive power to enforce its decision such court going so far as financial and economic boycott of any country resisting its decisions. It must also have at its disposal an international force to prevent any country from breaking the peace. All this implies the abolition of secret treaties and secret diplomacy and the abolition of armaments."

WILSON PLEADED WITH FIRST WEEK IN PARIS

PARIS, Dec. 21.—The president's first week in France finds the preliminary situation surrounding the peace conference fairly well developed toward the point where, according to the president's expressed view, it will be worth while for the United States to participate.

The president's conferences with French and Italian statesmen have served to emphasize that he considers a treaty of peace not enough but that the general agreement be made among the nations must include a satisfactory settlement of the question of the freedom of the seas and a league of nations.

The president now goes to England to continue the discussions there along the same lines as those he had with the representatives of France and Italy, which the president's advisers describe as having been satisfactory.

BRITISH PREPARE OLD FASHIONED CHRISTMAS

London, Dec. 21.—The whole country is preparing for the first old fashioned English Christmas in five years, with more than old fashioned enthusiasm. Nearly all the soldiers in Great Britain are flocking to their homes on a twelve-days leave, thousands more are coming across the channel, while colonials and Americans are pouring in for sight seeing.

"Just a little exposure will settle most questions. If the central powers had dared to discuss the purposes of this war for a single fortnight, it never would have happened. And if as should be they were forced to discuss it for a year, the war would have been inconceivable."

Spirit is Intolerant.

"So I feel that this war is, as has been said more than once today, intimately related with the University spirit. The University spirit is intolerant of all the things that put the human mind under restraint. It is intolerant of the advancement of ideas, the acceptance of the truth, the purification of life. And every university man can ally himself with the forces of the present time with the feeling that now at last the spirit of truth, the spirit of the moral universality has prevailed and is triumphant."

"If there is one point of pride that I venture to entertain, it is that it has been my private privilege in some measure to interpret the university spirit in the public life of a great nation, and I feel that in honoring me today you have first of all honored the people whom I represent. The spirit that I try to express I know to be their spirit and in proportion as I serve them I believe that I advance the cause of freedom."

"I wish to thank you, sir, from the bottom of my heart, for a distinction which has in a singular way, crowned my academic career."

SENATOR LODGE ATTACKS WILSON PEACE PROGRAM

Hold Up Five of President's Fourteen Principles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Five of President Wilson's fourteen principles of peace were held up in the senate today by Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, as questions which might lead to division among the nations which have conquered Germany and which certainly should be postponed until after the peace conference. They are the first four and the last of the points enunciated by the president in his speech of Jan. 8, 1918 and relate to secret diplomacy, freedom of the seas, economic barriers, reduction of armaments and the league of nations.

The senator delivered a prepared address on the problems of the peace conference in which he spoke of the heavy responsibility of the senate in the work of making peace, recalled that no treaty of peace should be made without the consent of the senate and declared that untoward results could be avoided only if the senate expressed itself frankly in advance.

Mistake to Ignore Senate

"While I think it a grave mistake," he said, "of the president to ignore the senate because our ultimate responsibility in making the peace is quite equal to his own, I have no fault to find with his not appointing senators as delegates to the peace conference. There is no obligation whatever upon him to make such appointments."

"In the present situation, which is grave beyond comparison," he said, "I think it is of last importance that those concerned in the actual negotiation of the treaty should at least know the views of the senate so far as the postmaster general in control of the cables, and Mr. Croel in control of the news will permit the opinion of the senate to be transmitted to Paris. We cannot compel information, but we are abundantly able to make our opinions known only to the president but to the allies who have a clear and even acute idea of the power of the senate in regard to treaties."

To bring forward propositions not inseparably connected with the immediate and difficult task of making a binding peace with Germany, Senator Lodge said, may ruin all by trying to do much at once.

Such preparations, he said, were the viewpoints enumerated. In his discussion of the freedom of the seas, the senator called attention to "the strange development" in connection with the pending naval appropriation bill, the advocacy by Rear Admiral Badger of a program calling for a navy as large as that of England in 1925. He said he thought he had favored building more ships than anybody else, but that he never had contemplated such a program and did not think it necessary.

Discusses Navy

"The only naval danger that we were obliged to consider in the past on the Atlantic coast has ceased to be. We need a powerful fleet in the Pacific and I feel sure we will have a navy sufficient to furnish that fleet to the western coast. And yet at this moment we are suddenly called upon to build a fleet which shall be the equal of that of England."

Of suggestions that a great navy is needed for police duty, in connection with the league of nations, the senator said he would "not stop to ask who is to order that navy about the world."

Mr. Lodge said he would be glad if the senate's debates on peace were supplemented by some definite resolutions expressing the views on important points. He continued:

"Whether the senate will take such action, although I know that we have very definite opinions—I cannot tell because there seems to be a feeling among some senators that it is an act of intolerable audacity for the senate even to suggest to the executive that it has opinions which ought to be considered. Personally I do not share that view."

"Peace being our object the first step toward peace is to make a peace with the country with which we have been and are at war—that is, with Germany. If the peace with Germany is to be durable, terms must be exacted which will make it so. Far as human foresight goes, impossible to break out again upon the world with a war of conquest. This cannot be done by treaty engagements and signatures to documents. At this juncture of affairs Germany would sign anything and her pledge would be worthless as the guarantees she gave to Belgium."

"It is also well to remember that Germany did not change its nature over night when the Kaiser ran away to Holland. The deep-rooted ambitions, the evil principles, carefully instilled for half a century, the barbarous

Walsh Testifies For Defence in Socialists Trial

Hold Up Five of President's Fourteen Principles

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Frank P. Walsh, former head of the federal industrial relations commission and later joint chairman of the federal war labor board was the principal witness for the defense at today's session of the trial of congressmen elect Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee and four other Socialist leaders charged with conspiracy to violate the espionage law.

He told of a controversy he had with Postmaster General Burleson in July, 1917, at a hearing in Washington, over a request for the second class mailing privilege of the Socialists.

Mr. Walsh said he afterwards wrote a letter to the postmaster general protesting against the official's position and the department's method of handling this class of cases and threatening to appeal to President Wilson. Postmaster General Burleson in his reply characterized Mr. Wilson's letter as "impertinent and probably intended to be offensive."

Mr. Walsh testified later he laid the case before President Wilson, and suggested a sum of reform in the manner of handling these cases. The witness said his purpose in protesting to the Washington officials was to safeguard the constitutional rights of free speech and a free press. He said he had read several copies of the anti-war pamphlets circulated by the Socialist party but had not been greatly impressed by them.

On cross examination he drew a distinction between what he thought should be barred from the mails and what should be excluded under the espionage law. He expressed the view that much of the Socialist anti-war literature might be mailed without doing any harm.

He said he did not agree with the Socialists that it was a capitalist war and vouchsafed the opinion that many persons who expected to make great fortunes out of the war would be sorely disappointed when they got thru paying taxes.

PIPER COMMITS SUICIDE IN CELL

MUSKEGON, MICH., Dec. 21.—Milo E. Piper, charged with the murder of Freda Weichman of Chicago, committed suicide in his cell in the county jail here early tonight by hanging. The body was discovered by Attorney Charles B. Cross, who had called to consult with him. Piper was last seen alive about 7:30 o'clock. Officials of the jail for a time denied that Piper had ended his life, but after an examination, Dr. Samuel A. Jackson, county physician, announced the accused man was dead.

Piper, it is said, removed his collar, twisted it as nearly into the shape of a rope as possible and secured it around his neck. Then looping his belt thru the collar, he fastened it to the cross bars of the cell gate and threw the weight of his body into the noose, ending his life.

Mrs. Hilda Piper, the dead man's wife, who had remained unshaken in her belief in Piper's innocence, was near collapse tonight when she learned of her husband's death.

GREEKS APPEAL TO PRESIDENT WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—President Wilson and the allied leaders have been appealed to by representatives of 400,000 Greeks in this country to insist at the peace conference upon the freedom of the Greeks everywhere.

This action was taken by 1,500 delegates, representing all sections of the country, who attended a meeting in this city of the Greek Orthodox community. A cablegram sent to President Wilson at Paris asked him to give his support to the Greek demands.

The message to President Wilson is signed by John P. Farmakis, president of the Greek Orthodox community and by representatives of unredeemed Greek territories of Asia Minor, Thrace, Macedonia, Spilrus and Dodecanissa.

Copies were cabled to M. Clemenceau and Lloyd George and Prime Minister Venizelos. It was also sent to Premier Orlando of Italy before his meeting with President Wilson.

SANTA CLAUS MUST WEAR MASK

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Dec. 21.—Santa Claus will be expected to wear an anti-influenza mask when he travels thru Illinois next Wednesday night, Dr. S. L. Drake, state director of health, said today in a warning to Yuletide celebrants against undue exposure to the disease which, he said, was still prevalent. Crowding at Christmas exercises, Dr. Drake stated, would result in many new influenza cases.

PLAN RE-ORGANIZATION OF NAVAL SERVICE

Washington, Dec. 21.—Secretary Daniels is planning a re-organization of naval practice to stop the frequent changes of officers aboard the ships of the fleet which have been the rule during the war.

Yankees Now Occupy Strong German Fortress

Hold Up Five of President's Fourteen Principles

COBLENZ, Friday, Dec. 20.—The German fortress of Ehrenbreitstein some times called the Gibraltar of the Rhine, on the opposite bank of the river from Coblenz was occupied by American troops today. The commander of the American forces is Col. Robert Boyers, a West Point graduate of 1903.

The American flag was flown from the staff on the central hoist of the fort today. The surgeons claim this is the first time the American banner has been raised over a building in Coblenz since the town was occupied.

Along the river Rhine from Coblenz to the northwest where the American bridgehead joins the British forces the stars and stripes fluttered over eleven patrol boats today.

Two river boats which had been requisitioned from the Germans began operating this morning. Nine other boats, arriving during the day, were pressed into service immediately.

All the boats are under the command of marine lieutenants and a detachment of marines. The operating crew is composed of Germans. At various points the boats attracted the attention not only of Germans but of Americans.

BULLETINS

HAMBURG, Dec. 21.—Privy Councillor Cuno has been appointed general manager of the Hamburg—American Steamship Line.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Fuel Administrator Garfield announced today that maximum prices on coal and zone regulations of fuel shipments will not be removed before February 1. There has been reports recently that all restrictions would be removed about the first of the year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Appointment of Major General Charles T. Mencher, who commanded the 42nd (Rainbow) Division in France, as director of air service, succeeding John D. Ryan, was announced today by General March.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Officials on the Red Cross Christmas roll call showed that up to Friday night, 10,122,440 persons in all parts of the country had joined the organization for the year 1919.

HOUGHTON, MICH., Dec. 21.—One man was killed and nine persons were injured, one seriously today in a rear-end collision of a passenger train and a freight on the Isle Royale Mine Railroad. The passenger train backed into the freight.

CAMP FUNSTON, Kans., Dec. 21.—Camp Funston is to be turned into a winter university in which soldiers who will be here for any length of time will be given instruction in industrial and mechanical lines, as well as military training, according to a notice issued today by Major General Leonard Wood, commander.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—Major C. J. Biddle, of this city, one of the famous American aces in service in France arrived tonight, surprising his relatives by reaching home without previous announcement. He was accompanied from France by Lieutenant Col. William Thaw, Pittsburgh; Captain Edgar E. Tobin, San Antonio, Texas, and Ray C. Bridgman, Lake Forest, Ill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—General Pershing notified the war department today that under the terms of the agreement the president he had awarded the distinguished service medal to the generals commanding the various French, British, Belgian and Italian armies. In all decorations were awarded to sixteen French generals, seven British, one Belgian and three Italian generals.

WILSON WILL SPEND BUSY HOLIDAY WEEK

Paris, Dec. 21.—The definite announcement of President Wilson's plans covering the period from Christmas eve to New Year's eve, including a Christmas dinner with the troops near Chaumont, and the president's trip to England and meeting with Premier Lloyd George and his return to France on New Year's has served somewhat to clarify the pre-conference situation.

SUSPEND AERIAL MAIL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—A ten-day suspension of the Chicago-New York aerial mail service was ordered today by the post-office department after the failure of three attempts to get the planes over the route.

During the suspension Liberty Motors assigned to the route will be overhauled and re-adjusted and it is announced service will be resumed January 2.

GERMANS EVACUATE REVAL

Amsterdam, Dec. 2.—Reval, the capital of Estonia, situated on the Gulf of Finland, has been evacuated by the Germans, according to a telegram from Berlin.

SENATE ADOPTS ALL PROVISIONS OF REVENUE BILL

Big War Measure Expected to be Passed Monday

Washington, Dec. 21.—By a strict party vote, the senate today adopted all provisions in the war revenue bill prescribing tax rates for 1920, which Democrats advocated and Republicans opposed, but failed to reach a final vote on the measure. As the bill was taken until Monday when its passage is expected. Disposition of the controverted 1920 tax provisions designed to raise about four billion dollars as compared with the six billion-dollar estimate for 1919, precipitated long and spirited debate with numerous partisan clashes.

Action was taken virtually on a test vote in disposing of the provision reducing the individual income tax rate to 8 per cent in 1920. On motion by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, Republican, to strike out this section, thirty-seven Democrats voted to retain it and thirty-one Republicans were recorded for its elimination.

Later all other 1920 provisions were adopted with preference viva voce votes. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, a senior Republican member of the finance committee offered motions to strike out the sections but these were bowled over by a chorus of Democratic "nays."

Among the 1920 clauses thus approved was the provision for reduction in that year of the corporation normal income tax rate from 12 to 8 per cent. In similar manner the senate adopted the 1920 war excess profits tax provision prescribing excess profits ranging from 20 to 40 per cent in lieu of those from 20 to 60 per cent for 1919 and abolishing the 80 per cent war profits levy after 1919. An amendment by Senator Jones of New Mexico, Democrat to continue war profits taxes in 1919 was voted down, 44 to 15.

1920 Tax Question.

Disposition of the 1920 tax question caused such protracted debate that Chairman Simmons abandoned plans for a night session and agreed to adjournment until Monday at 10 o'clock in an effort to force passage that day, with a night session if necessary. With this issue out of the way senator leaders predicted other provisions, including the inheritance, luxury and other sections would be disposed of speedily. In the partisan contest over fixing rates at this time, for 1920, Senators Penrose, Townsend, of Michigan, and Smoot, of Utah, led the Republican attack while Chairman Simmons and Senator Smith of Georgia, defended the Democratic policy.

Charges by the Republicans that in so doing, political advantage was sought with a view to avoiding an extra session of the next congress in which Republicans will have a majority were met by assertions from the Democrats that Republicans desired to force an extra session. A suggestion by Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican, that there was "some mystery" about the changed attitude of Republicans on the bill caused evident surprise among both factions. After the finance committee had adopted the 1920 plan, Senator Borah said Republican leaders threatened to filibuster and prevent the bill's passage. Soon after, he added, they suddenly changed their minds and proposed prompt enactment.

Prompt Passage Desirable.

Senator Penrose replied at first many Republicans were disposed to defeat the bill but finally agreed that as the government needed the money, its prompt passage was desirable.

During the debate there were Republican predictions that an extra session of congress was inevitable.

In supporting his amendment for continuing of war profits taxes next year, Senator Jones declared the committee's proposal if finally enacted would mean an "absolute embargo on new enterprises" and prevent the development of the country at the very time when business should be most encouraged.

He did not believe a dollar would be invested in the western mining industry if the committee provision was adopted. In opposition the amendment Senator Simmons said it had been presented before the committee by the New Mexico senator and after much discussion rejected.

Those supporting the Jones amendment were Senators Ashurst, Fletcher, Henderson, Johnson of North Dakota; Jones, of New Mexico; Kendrick, King, Myers, Phelan, Pittman, Shafroth, Sheppard and Thomas, Democrats, and Johnson of California, and McNary, Republicans.

Many Notables Will Welcome Returning Fleet

Hold Up Five of President's Fourteen Principles

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Invitations to attend the welcome home ceremonies at New York on December 26, for the battleship squadron returning from service in European waters, were sent by the navy department today to members of the cabinet and their wives, the governors of all states, members of the senate and house naval committees, the military and naval representatives of the allied nations in Washington and the wives of the commanding officers on duty with the fleet.

The Mayflower, from which Secretary Daniels will review the fleet, will reach New York Christmas day and will anchor at the foot of West Ninety-seventh street. Those on the Mayflower in addition to the Secretary and Mrs. Daniels, will include the cabinet members, the senior naval attaché of each of the allied nations, the wives of the returning admirals and captains, vice-admiral and Mrs. Gleeves and Rear-admiral and Mrs. Usher.

With the Mayflower will be a converted yacht carrying the other special guests. Rear-Admiral Burrage will be in charge as guest of the congressional party and Rear-Admiral W. S. Smith will be with the naval consulting board. A converted yacht has been assigned for the allied military and naval representatives and another for the press. All of these ships will be anchored near the Mayflower and will be open for the guests at New York on December 25, at 8 a. m.

The arriving ships will anchor near the Statue of Liberty. After luncheon on the Mayflower and attending ships, the navy's guests will go ashore to view the land parade.

Only officers and men from the returning ships will march.

The battleships New Mexico and Mississippi with a large number of destroyers will be sent to meet the fleet near Fire Island Lightship.

PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY VON HINDENBURG

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 21.—A remarkable proclamation has been issued by Field Marshal von Hindenburg from German main headquarters at Wilhelmshoe, dated "Christmas, 1918."

The Cassell Allgemeine Zeitung publishes the proclamation which refers to the "mighty achievements in war of the German nation in arms, trained to warfare, which did not collapse before a world of at Wilhelmshoe, dated "Christmas, 1918."

"It drew this capacity from the holy fire of patriotism, will to victory and a spirit of loyalty. The German army has vanished, dissolved, disbanded, altho until the last it was feared and respected by its enemies. To the officers, high and low, as trainers and leaders of the national army is undeniably due a great share of glory and it is petty revenge to deprive them of their insignia and arms and declare them incapable of exercising command."

The utter destruction of the national strength of the German people is the intention of those destructive, disruptive spirits, who are working to impede the re-organization of the empire on a sound political and economic basis."

GERMAN MINISTER TO MEXICO RECALLED

Mexico City, Dec. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Henrich von Eckhardt, the German minister to Mexico since 1915 and the diplomat who figured in the Zimmerman disclosures early in 1917, when the German government made a futile attempt to lure Mexico up against the United States has been recalled by the present German government.

This was learned today by the evening when the announcement was made that Minister von Eckhardt had notified the Mexican government of his recall. The diplomat expects to make his farewell calls within a few days and to leave for Germany by way of the United States.

The notice of his recall was sent to von Eckhardt thru Ygnacio Bonillas, the Mexican ambassador at Washington, more than five weeks ago, but apparently the German minister here paid no attention to the instructions of the new German government. About ten days ago orders were sent to von Eckhardt.

The diplomatic affairs of Germany in Mexico will be left in the hands of Dr. Arthur von Mangus, counsellor of the German legation, who it is stated has been given positive instructions by his government to cease anti-American propaganda in Mexico.

Minister von Eckhardt has been credited with being the director of violent anti-American propaganda which has been carried out in Mexico by pro-German and German owned papers which at various times published false stories with the evident intention of embroiling Mexico and the United States in war.

DEMobilIZATION REACHES 30,000 PER DAY RATE

Nearly 200,000 Discharged During Past Week

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Demobilization of the home military forces at the rate of 30,000 a day, the goal settled upon a month ago by the war department, has been reached, if not exceeded.

General March, of staff announced that demobilization at the home camps during the seven day period ending December 14 was at an average of 27,000 a day altho no men were discharged from most of the camps on Sunday.

Total demobilization on December 14 had reached 29,903 officers and 188,562 men. The chief of staff said more than 900,000 men have been assigned to early demobilization. Including 21,000 divisional troops, 43,000 engineers and 15,000 men of the military aeronautics division.

General March made public a report from General Pershing under date of December 15 saying at that time a total of 3,210 American officers and men taken prisoner by the enemy, had been released and only a few American in isolated camps remained prisoner. Red Cross workers and allied and neutral agents the report said are now searching for the few Americans still held prisoner.

188,562 Discharged.

With a total of 188,562 men discharged from the army during the week ending December 14, General March announced today, the war department has about reached the average of 30,000 discharged daily for which the demobilization plans call.

On a seven day basis the average for that week was 27,000 men per day, but in many cases demobilization officers did not operate on Sunday.

Additional units in this country designated for early demobilization brings the total of men so selected to 300,000. General March announced. Up to the date of the latest official reports 26,903 officers had been honorably discharged.

General Pershing has reported that 3,310 American prisoners of war were repatriated up to December 16. Of these 2,653 came through Switzerland, 324 passed through the American front lines; 120 went through Holland and 113 through Denmark. The passing through Holland and Denmark are now all enroute for England, the dispatch said.

General Pershing expressed the opinion that very few American prisoners remain in Germany and believed these would be quickly evacuated. He said a continued search is being made for isolated prisoners, British and French officials in Switzerland, Holland and Sweden and in Germany itself, aiding in this search.

Educators from Chicago and down state met in Peoria yesterday for a conference on vocational education, especially as related to the period of reconstruction. It is said that the Chicago and down-state men have come nearer agreeing on policy this time than ever before. In the past Chicago has always been insistent upon the "German method." Now for some reason that phrase is not popular.

Congressman Sims has introduced a bill whereby the government is seeking to get some sort of control of the packing industry. It is not proposed to take over the packing plants, but to give the government some part in directing the business thru the federal trade commission. While it is admitted that the government should have some control of the packing industry, which has been so bristled at that it includes scores of different lines of industry, the suggestion of aid thru the federal trade commission does not sound especially encouraging. The commission has done some good work but for the most part its investigations have been without much benefit that the public could sense.

HOLLAND'S TROUBLES CONTINUE.

Perhaps after all, Holland deserves the sympathy of all the other nations over her present predicament of housing the ex-kaizer and not knowing what disposition to make of him. It seems like the prevalence of fate that the little country should during the long war be able to preserve its neutrality and the pressed by both Germans and allies, and after the war is over, meet the new and difficult condition which the kaizer's presence brings. But there is this advantage in having him in that little country, for the allies know where he can be found when their course has been fixed upon and the decision reached as to whether or not punishment is to be inflicted.

RAILROAD CONTROL.

It is interesting to note that the majority of railroad managers are on record as in favor of having the railroad properties turned back to them at a comparatively early date. In view of the difficulties the managers have had in the past and when some forecasts of future trouble are remembered, it is somewhat surprising that the railroad men are so ready and willing to again take up these large responsibilities.

There is not enough public sentiment in this country to justify the public ownership of railroads, although there has been an increasing number of citizens who believe in that principle. But during the months of government management the public ownership has not gained friends unless it is among the railroad employees themselves. The history of public ownership is not one to create enthusiasm, for there have been experiences even in the U. S. to say nothing of those abroad. The state of Pennsylvania is said to have lost $20,000,000 in experimenting with railroad management and in Missouri the losses were even more totaling $25,000,000. In some foreign countries the results have been more satisfactory but in these countries labor conditions and the service demands are entirely different from those of the U. S.

THE LIGHTS THAT WILL BURN IN THE WINDOWS

It is said that an artist some years ago painted a Christmas scene. A dwelling house was shown in the gathering darkness of a snowstorm. The ground was covered with snow and the trees were laden with it. A gloomy scene, his friends called it. And then the artist with the touch of his brush, put a light in the front window of the house. It was all changed and instead of foreboding the picture glowed with the spirit of Christmas, for there was light and color and welcome.

Just now there is no Christmas promise of snow in this vicinity and the weather indicates a holiday devoid of the white blanket which so often adds to the cheerfulness. But the lights will not be lacking in the windows this year, for Christmas of 1918 is to be the happiest that the world has known for at least five years. It is the first Christmas during that five year period in which men have not been pitted against each other on the field of battle. It is the first during those years that millions of women and children at home have not with aching hearts turned their thoughts toward battlefields, and while struggling to keep Christmas happily, have had prayers upon their lips and in their hearts for the safety and well-being of those they loved.

But this Christmas will find all that changed. The millions of men in the armed forces of the nations have laid down their weapons. The roar of conflict is ended and the confusion of machine gun fire and bursting shells has ceased. Vast numbers of men have returned to the homes and families from which they had long been separated and others are merely marking time waiting for the glad release that will send them homeward.

Yes, it will indeed be a glad Christmas the world over, for millions can observe Christmas with hearts filled with gladness because the great world war is over. Even in those homes where a gold star tells the story of supreme sacrifice, there can be something of happiness, for the Christmas spirit means thoughts of others as well as ourselves. Even in those houses of mourning there will be gladness because sorrow has been spared to other homes. Therein lies the thought of real Christmas happiness, for those who know most of the Christmas spirit think infrequently of themselves and often of others.

As the recurring Christmases came during the progress of the war it was constantly more difficult for people to understand how any good could come from so great evil. As there was knowledge of the nearly world-wide devastation, hunger and misery, men and women sometimes asked: Where is God? Why is such human torture permitted thru so many years? Their faith was often near the breaking point. But now that the end has come and peace once more reigns upon the earth, they are beginning to get some little vision of the benefits that the bloody conflict has brought to the world.

Recently a somewhat prophetic utterance of the late Henry Wallace has come into special prominence. Back in 1915 he wrote: "Out of all this outburst of hatred, out of all this welter of blood, this unspeakable agony of the peoples, will come at last a clearer conception of human rights."

when thrones not founded upon the will of the people will crumble, when the true faith will return, when religion will be understood as a life and not a philosophy and men will realize the truth of the statement made by Paul: "And He made of one blood every nation of men, to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed sessions and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek God if haply they might feel after Him and find Him, though he is not far from each of us."

Whether or not people see a great divine purpose behind the war—the world-wide benefits accruing to mankind because of the years of pain, nevertheless they will with one mind observe Christmas this year as the holiest holiday they have ever known. Putting aside generalities and Christmas thought in the abstract, millions of fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers, wives or sweethearts know that the boys they love, if not already with them, soon will be on the homeward journey. They know that separations they feared might be lifelong are soon to close. They know that "the boys are coming home." And in all the main details what applies to America is true of other nations that engaged in the war, save that there will be fewer homecomings over there.

It is easy to understand why the Christmas of 1918 will be the gladdiest that men have ever known since the Prince of Peace came into this world.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

A YEAR AGO
Ah, well I remember how last year's December was poignant with sorrow and woe; the Teuton was tooting and raging and shooting, an awesome and terrible foe. With briny tears dropping we went to our shopping, the shopping that Christmas requires, and bought for the kiddies tin rabbits bits and biddies, lollipops, lanterns and lyres. No joy was in buying, but, sobbing and sighing, we pushed ourselves round in the stores, and thought of our brothers and cousins and others who suffered on far foreign shores. And often when pricing the cakes with their icing, the candies and walnuts and figs, the tears would leave traces all over our faces, till we wiped them away with our wigs. Oh, sad was that season, for we had no reason to think that the end would soon come. The Prussian seemed stronger and fiercer the longer he marched to the beat of his drum. So when we were giving on doddads amazing, on wax dolls and Theodore bears, emotion would take us, our feelings would shake us, we'd swoon and go rolling down stairs. But now, here are happy and peppy and snappy, the day of our sorrow is done, we've fixed this old planet so kings shall not man it, we've fastened the lid on the Hun!

RIALTO WILL OPEN CHRISTMAS DAY

New Picture and Vaudeville House Attractive in Every Detail—Safety and Ventilation Given First Consideration.

Harold J. Johnson, manager and owner of the Rialto, on East State street has pushed the work along so rapidly that the handsome new theatre will open to the public next Wednesday, Christmas day. The picture will be "A Perfect Lady", a Goldwyn film featuring Madge Kennedy. There will also be an excellent vaudeville act.

The extensive remodeling of the Buckthorpe building by which it is to be transferred into the Rialto theatre has progressed with great rapidity. Certainly those who have not inspected the new theatre have a glad surprise in store for them for Mr. Johnson has planned well and is giving Jacksonville a moving picture and vaudeville theatre which will be a substantial contribution to the entertainment features of the city.

Latest Model Picture Machine. There are storm doors at the entrance and the space about the ticket window is ample. In fact, this is the word that describes all the plans. Mr. Johnson has carried out for the entrance and exit doors are all wide and spacious. While there are nearly 500 seats in the house, there will be no crowding and every patron will be comfortable. The picture machine is of the latest model and is installed in a room above the ticket window which is as near as absolutely fireproof as plans of architect or carpenter can make it.

The plans for the interior of the building were made after nearly two months of study during which the picture theatres in a number of cities were visited. Two of the best points about the theatre are safety and ventilation. There are two means of exit on the east side of the building and these, together with the main entrance and the stage doors, will make it possible to empty the theatre in two minutes' time if desirable. The side doors will be used regularly as exits in addition to the State street doors. From one of the side doors a concrete walk leads to East street and the walk from the other connects with Morgan street. Another detail which makes for safety is found in the fact that all wiring is in conduits.

A Clear View of Screen. The ventilating system includes a series of openings all along the east wall. The floor has been so elevated that every one of the seats in the house will have a clear view of the curtain and screen.

A solid plaster screen has been built after the most approved ideas for showing pictures. The finish is in old mission style with panel walls done in soft and attractive coloring. The hangings of the stage will be in green velvet. Back of the stage are the dressing rooms and still in the rear of these, storage room and work shop. As indicated, the work on the new theatre has been pushed along rapidly and in a very satisfactory way. The general contract is in the hands of S. G. Chumley. The extensive task of decorating was given to Kruse & Benson. The plans for the theatre decoration and equipment were made jointly by Miss Ruth Brown and Mr. Johnson. Miss Brown will be the cashier of the theatre. The orchestra contract has been made by Mr. Johnson with Miss Gladys Carroll, pianist. Miss Carroll, engaged Dudley Hite, violinist, as leader and Leo Johnson for the drums. The Rialto will be in every way a high class motion picture and vaudeville theatre.

AN INTERESTING VASE.

In the front window of the clothing house of Myers Brothers is a vase which in itself is an article of beauty and art and has a history unusual. It is the property of Miss Goldie Cohen to whom it was sent by a friend in France. The case is of brass about three inches in diameter parallel sides and some fourteen inches high. It is ornamental and a thing of real beauty and added to that fact it was made from a shell picked up on a battle field in France. It was fired from one of the 75 centimeter French guns.

"Did Anyone Who Ever Heard a New Edison Ever Buy Any Other Instrument?"

FRANKLY, we do not know. But it is difficult to believe that after hearing the New Edison anyone could purchase any other make. The chief reason that other devices are sold at all is because the purchasers have never heard the New Edison. Time and again the New Edison is bought to replace some other make, purchased before the buyer had heard a proper demonstration of

The New Edison

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Doesn't it stand to reason that an instrument which RE-CREATES should be preferred to one which merely imitates? Isn't it obvious that an instrument which has successfully met the tone test should take precedence over those which are unable to sustain this searching trial?

Not once, but 1500 times has the New Edison been subjected to the test of direct comparison with the artist's living voice or actual instrumental performance. Audiences totaling more than 2,000,000 people have attended these tests. And invariably the verdict was the same: Artist and instrument were indistinguishable.

Why should anyone purchase any other instrument after hearing the New Edison? Call at our store and hear a demonstration.

Gives Peace Views.

"I do not need to rehearse what those physical guarantees should be for I have stated my views upon them more than once to the senate and think there is general agreement upon them not only in the senate but among the American people. They include the restoration of Belgium, the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France, of the Italia Irredenta to Italy, the establishment of a Jugo-Slav state and of an independent state formed by the Czechs-Slovaks. They include also the security of Greece, the settlement of Albania and Montenegro, the restoration of Rumania, the consolidation of all the Rumanian people under one government as well as the neutralization of the Straits, the putting of Constantinople under international protection with Greece perhaps as the mandatory power to administer the affairs of the city, the independence of Armenia, the return of those portions of Asia Minor where Greeks are predominant to Greece, the protection of Syria and Palestine from the Turks, a large, powerful, and independent Polish state in the independence of Russia's Baltic provinces, the return of Danish Schleswig to the Danes and the neutralization of the Kiel canal.

"These physical guarantees which I have thus suggested all have one object and that is to hem Germany in that she cannot attempt conquest in Russia or the east and that the Slavic populations, which she has mercilessly used in her wars, can never be so used by her again.

Germany Must Pay.

"In addition to these guarantees there must be heavy indemnities paid by Germany for the ruin she has wrought in Belgium and northern France and in Italy and for her destruction of vessels, both neutral and belligerent, thru the use of submarines. In these indemnities the United States must have its proper and proportional share not only direct indemnity for its ships destroyed by submarines and its people murdered on the Lusitania and other vessels, but a suitable restitution, in part at least, of the vast expenses forced upon us by Germany.

"It will be for the peace conference to determine what disposition should be made of the German colonies, but one thing is essential, and that is that they should not be returned to the tyrannical misgovernment of Germany and that she should be deprived of those means for extending her commerce and building up military outposts in all parts of the world.

"It is the duty of the allies and the United States to meet and determine what terms they will impose upon Germany and then and not until then call the representatives of Germany and impose the terms upon them."

Of the league of nations proposals Senator Lodge said no definite plan has yet been put forth that would not cause indefinite controversy.

Not Time For League.

"The attempt to form now a league of nations—and I mean an effective league, with power to enforce its decrees," he said, "can tend only to embarrass the peace that we ought to make with Germany. If it were successful and we were to come before the senate it might endanger the peace treaty and force amendments."

"Are we prepared to allow any association of nations by a majority vote to order the troops and ships of the United States to go to war? Unless we are prepared to do so we are not prepared to join a league of nations which is going to enforce peace."

In urging postponement of the question of freedom of the seas, Senator Lodge said it was another undefined "question" and added:

"If it means that the belligerent right of blockade I think the United States will hesitate before it abandons a weapon absolutely necessary for its own safety. I can not imagine that England would for a moment think of abandoning the right of blockade."

Discussing secret diplomacy the senator said that point of President Wilson's need not be incorporated in the peace treaty because secret treaties never have and cannot exist in this country.

Urging postponement of action on the matter of economic barriers, he said, "it opens a wide field of discussion," and "its settlement is not in the least essential to ending the war by a peace with Germany. We can make that peace without determining at this moment what we shall do with our tariffs in the making of which every nation ought to have entire freedom."

Russian Situation.
Russian Senator Lodge declared, presents an important problem in connection with the world peace and reconstruction which cannot be shirked. All civilized nations, he urged, must aid in restoration of Russia.

"We have no present government in Russia," he said, "with which any one can deal intelligently. The thing that calls for a government is no more fit to be dealt with in negotiation than a band of anthropoid apes. There is nothing that seems to indicate that the Russian people have the power to extricate themselves. We have troops in Russia. Unfortunately there are so few that it is greatly to be feared that they are wholly inadequate for the work they may have to do."

THE FRENCH WAR ORPHAN FUND

The results of the Christmas tree tag plan for the French orphan fund were gratifying indeed, according to the statement made by Mrs. W. T. Scott, and her Jacksonville assistant, Mrs. R. H. Lacey last night. The disagreeable weather interfered greatly with the plans, as it was not possible for the young ladies to leave the trees out of doors. However, the Misses Cora Cherry, Ruby Cully, Rena Chaney and Hazel and Ida Widmayer kept faithfully busy and as a result sold tags to the value of $116. The tags intended by the general committee for the Christmas trees have not arrived, and should they come Monday morning they will be used by the young ladies, who will have the Christmas trees in an appropriate place in the business district if the weather is favorable. Even should these tags not come, others of the plain white variety used Saturday will be available.

It was interesting to note yesterday how willingly people contributed to the fund. Old and young seemed glad of this opportunity of giving something to contribute to the happiness and well being of the French children, made orphans as a result of the great war.

VIRGINIA WOMAN DIES FROM "FLU"

Mrs. W. C. McNeely Had Been Ill Two Weeks—Funeral of Ray Charles Held—News Notes.

Virginia, Dec. 21.—Mrs. W. C. McNeely passed away at the family home in this city Saturday morning Dec. 21, at 2 o'clock. Death was due to Spanish influenza. Deceased had been ill about two weeks, but her condition was not considered as serious, until a few hours before she died, when she was suddenly stricken with heart failure.

Jeanette Baker was born in Chandlerville, 44 years ago where she grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage at the age of 20 years to W. C. McNeely, who with two sons survive, Jesse and Vernon at home, one son, Earl, preceded the mother in death 5 years ago.

Two sisters Mrs. Pearl Palmer of Springfield, and Mrs. R. L. Walton, of Bismarck, N. D., and one brother, Arthur Baxter of St. Louis, also mourn her untimely demise.

A number of cases of dependency were heard by Judge Samuel in the juvenile court Saturday. Four children of John Doyle who is now in the county jail, were ordered committed to the School for Dependent Children at Alton, which is maintained by the Catholic church. This action was taken on the recommendation of Miss Dorsey, probation officer.

The children are Mary, aged 11, John, 13, Anna, 9, and Rose 6 years of age. Their mother died a number of months ago from tuberculosis.

Oliver Moss appeared before the court on a delinquency charge. He was placed on probation in the care of his parents. He had something to do with the recent depredations in the office of the Gravel Springs company.

CARL NEWPORT WRITES FROM FRANCE

Journal Employee Describes Interesting Work Done By Yankees—Tells of Destruction and Hardships.

In a recent letter to his wife Carl E. Newport a Journal employee who is with the army in France tells of the interesting work in which he has been engaged overseas. During his absence Mr. Newport is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lucas of Gladstone street. The letter follows:

In France, Nov. 26, 1918. My Dear Wife:

We have had a couple of days of rain and it is sure a good thing. They have good roads in this country or we never would be able to go around with the big motor trucks. I went out on a truck to a nearby town this morning to get a load of wood and I was surprised to see such fine furniture in some of the houses that have been shot to pieces. All of the town is torn up and no one lives there, but the American soldiers, but I suppose after we all get away from these towns what people are left will come back to what was their homes, but now they are nothing but a mass of ruins.

It is awful to see all of the houses and churches torn down and nothing remains to most of them but a few walls, and clothing and furniture are scattered all around the ruins in just about the way the Germans left them. You see, the Huns used these houses to live in until they were driven out and then things were torn up. The lady and her daughter who used to live in the place where we are quartered came back yesterday to look at the old home, and they sure did not find very much here for we have half of the place for a stable and the rest of the room is fixed up with bunks for us to sleep on. The daughter was kept here by a German officer for a long time and you may know she was happy when the Yankees got after them in this sector.

It is very interesting to ride about in this part of the country and see the ruins and the large shell holes. It doesn't look possible that a gun could send out a bullet large enough to tear up things like they do. I was up to some of the trenches and they were fixed up very well in some places but I am glad I did not have to spend a long time in them. I think we have been pretty lucky for as a rule we have got along pretty well and if they would only send us home now, as it is all over, I would sure be one happy man.

You should see the light we have fixed up. We have a can filled with grease and a wick and it makes a pretty good light. It is so hard to get anything to burn in this part so I guess we are lucky that we have what we have fixed up. Benolick got some mail from home today and I sure hope they hurry up and get our mail coming to us, but there's no telling when I will get it now, for it will all go to the casual headquarters and they will send it out when they feel like it. I am anxious to hear from you for it has been a long time since I have heard from you and I hope you have been getting my letters. I know they are late getting away from here, for we don't have the mail service here like they do in the states, for ours goes out when someone goes to one of the larger places, near here, or I guess some of them are sent by carrier.

I guess Pershing was right when he said "Heaven, hell or Hoboken by Christmas," for I see where some of our boys left Liverpool the other day and I bet they were one happy bunch. It is hard to tell just when we will get away and we sure do a lot of arguing about it, but of course none of us have any idea when we will get back to our homes again. I don't see any reason for their keeping us over here much longer, for we are not doing a lot of good now, but you can't tell what they will do in the army.

I just now thought that Thursday was Thanksgiving and I would like to have some of that good duck, celery, etc., like we had last year, but just wait until I get home and we will have a big feed, even if it is not Christmas or Thanksgiving.

Well, I will ring off today and I hope you all are well. I am feeling fine. Don't worry about me for I will be with you before long.

DEATHS

Word has been received by the family of J. F. Self of the death of Rev. Otto F. Self of Spokane, Wash., Thursday December 12th. Death came from double pneumonia following the influenza.

While in school at Monmouth college and Moody Institute in Chicago he made several visits to Jacksonville. Later he attended a theological seminary in Pittsburg, being graduated in May, 1917. He was married soon after and with his bride he went to Weiser, Idaho, having accepted a charge there. He was a great favorite among both old and young, which made for his success in the ministry. Only a few months ago he left Idaho and moved to Spokane, Wash., to take up the pastorate of one of the large Presbyterian churches in that place.

His wife and infant son, Robert Otto survive.

Many people will regret to learn of the death of the young man.

ABOUT THE RAILROADS.

Mr. Editor: Shall the government continue control of the railroads or shall the individual owners run them? I understand the government wishes the people to discuss that. I have before me a transcript of the returns on file at Washington for the first nine months of this year, ending September 30, made by each steam railroad to the interstate commerce commission, and which shows every one of them has done more business with a decided increase over other years. This is a sample:

The Union Pacific this year $69,000,000 gross; $27,000,000; last year gross, $54,000,000, net $21,000,000.

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy: gross $104,000,000, last year $90,000,000.

Illinois Central: gross $58,000,000, last year $46,000,000. This was more money than ever before received for the same length of time. Even the Chicago & Alton this year, gross $29,000,000; last year $12,000,000.

Wabash: this year $34,000,000; last year $29,000,000 gross. Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis, gross $1,636,000 this year; last year $1,593,000.

Here is report of large and small roads and all of them are doing more business than ever before, and each month is on the increase.

Would it be reasonable to think that the stockholders would want to change? The bondholders are more than satisfied to leave it with the government. The stockholders, the real owners of the roads, never did run them. The presidents, directors and managers that have run the road do not own 5 per cent of the stock of their roads. How do they come in possession? They are elected at the annual stockholders' meeting where there are never 5 per cent of the stockholders present, but the secretary who while sending out dividends to the 10,000 stockholders of the road, scattered all over the country, has at the same time gathered up proxies to more than enough to control and votes them as directed.

And the way Harriman took in the Chicago & Alton. He found that it only had about $18,000,000 in stock left edge, selling at $170 per share. He was a director on the Ill. Central Railroad board, who went his security with a New York bank to margin the buying a majority of the stock at $175 per share. When that was done he voted out President Blackstone and his directors, put in his own directors and issued $40,000,000 bonds and $40,000,000 in stock, sold them at par and settled with the New York bank and was ready to attack another railroad. The stock of that road is now listed at $8 per share, and the railroad is paying interest on those bonds. State corporation laws give no protection to minority stockholders but the U. S. government protects all of them and there is no chance for the would-be Harrimans to rob a railroad that the government controls.

It will be hard but we guess we can struggle along this Christmas without Col. House and George Creel.

We read that Spain is ready to break with Germany. This is the prize joke of the Christmas season when it is remembered that Germany did everything to Spain except occupy her territory during the war and without much protest from Spain. Now that the allies have won the war and Germany has no navy and but little in the way of an army the Spaniards want to fight.

Bill Camp is curious to know who is trying to prevent Ty Cobb from quitting baseball. Poor Bill, not knowing there is any other game played but golf of course doesn't know that there are probably thirty or forty million baseball enthusiasts in all parts of the world who object strenuously to Cobb, the greatest player of all time, quitting the game.

Postmaster General Burleson says that the government should own the telephone and telegraph lines and eliminate waste in competition. The postmaster general says the extension of service should be determined by public needs and not by private gain.

Mr. Burleson will find that what the American public wants first is service and that the cost, if the service is good, is a secondary consideration. If Mr. Burleson calls it service when one wants a messenger boy and there are three in the office but the one who works in the zone in which one's residence is located does not happen to be present and the other three can't make the call, then we beg to let private corporations operate the wire systems and the interests associated with them such as messenger service.

"Silk" O'Laughlin Dead.

"Silk" O'Laughlin, one of the best known major league umpires in the country, died Friday at his home in Boston of pneumonia. O'Laughlin was for many years a big league umpire and was regarded as one of the most able officials in either league. He was one of the men always selected to handle the indicator in world's series games and has been a national figure in the baseball world. Perhaps his greatest fame and popularity came thru his peculiarity of calling balls and strikes. His "Strike Tuh," was known to baseball fans all over the world. He will be missed when the season opens. It will be many years before there will be another like him.

Quite often present day sport writers get to reminiscing about old time diamond stars without looking up the records to verify their statements. A few days ago the sport writer of the Hattiesburg, Mississippi, American got to comparing old time baseball stars, especially pitchers and catchers, with those of the present day.

He got to telling about the terrific speed of Charles, better known as "Old Hoss" Radbourne. The fact of the matter is that Radbourne was essentially a curve ball and a slow ball pitcher. Clark Griffith, now manager of the Washington American league team, was often compared to Radbourne, who tutored him up around Bloomington in the early days of his career. Griffith was always known as a slow ball pitcher and his greatest asset, aside from a good curve ball, was his control. This also was one of the secrets of Radbourne's success.

The writer also told of Bushong, of Chris Vonder Abe's Famous St. Louis Browns catching McCormick. The fact of the matter is that McCormick was a teammate of John Clarkson on the old Chicago White Sox and so far as we know never was on the same team with Bushong.

Suitable Christmas Gifts.

In accordance with our annual custom we offer the following suggestions for suitable Christmas gifts:

For the Kaiser, otherwise Bill Hohenzollern, a friend.

Senator Sherman, a new supply of vitriol.

Uncle Joe Cannon, a box of Wheeling stogies.

Bill Camp, the life of "Teddy" Roosevelt.

The United States senate, some news of the peace conference.

Official press censor, George Creel, some horse sense.

For J. Ham Lewis, democratic whip of the senate, a new title.

Mayor Thompson, a package of loyalty.

The city employees, some Santa Claus to cash their due bills for salary.

For the Office Girl, a new supply of personal pronouns.

For the city commissioners, a kind word.

The democratic party, a new slogan.

The night police force, enough members to form a eucure game.

To the old world, everlasting peace and good will toward men.

APPRECIATION OF MRS. WARD.

The Official Board of Grace M. E. church at a recent meeting appointed a Committee to prepare an expression of sympathy in view of the recent decease of Mrs. John N. Ward. The committee so appointed has submitted the following appreciation:

To the Memory of Mrs. John N. Ward.

The Official Board of Grace M. E. church and especially the older members of the congregation realize that they have sustained an irreparable loss in the passing to the Homeland of Mrs. Jennie Kimman Ward, who for fifty one years has been a member of Grace Church, interested and active in all its departments, particularly the Sunday School.

Endowed with a brilliant mind which was trained by study and enriched with letters, she had unusual gifts as a teacher, both with the children and with adult classes. For many years she was the highly successful superintendent of the Primary department and later she taught classes of young women as long as her strength permitted. Her daily life also was an impressive lesson to her pupils.

In the Aid Society and the Missionary Societies she was always a leading spirit, lending her courageous help to the undertaking of all great enterprises.

In the prayer meeting she was a regular and active participant. Her prayer was an inspiration to others, swelling her strong Christian faith, her grasp of spiritual truths and her fellowship with her Heavenly Father.

She gave herself freely to the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom on Earth and for the helping of others. Many will honor her memory for the loving sacrifices which she made for them.

Her work was characterized by intelligence, thoroughness and faithfulness. She had a large vision of the needs of the Community, giving valuable leadership in the affairs of the Woman's College, the Passavant Hospital, the Aute Salom League work, the Women's Club and all movements for the betterment of the city. Thru these means she sought to carry out the will of the Master and still more to bring other to a knowledge of Him.

To her husband, our brother, John N. Ward, and her daughters and other members of the family we extend our most heartfelt sympathy.

Alfred T. Capps, William C. McCullough, Committee of the Official Board.

FRANKLIN BOYS WRITE TO RELATIVES

Two Franklin boys about whom their parents were becoming worried have been heard from. They are Corporal J. Miller Keplinger and Trusten Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Keplinger received a letter from their son Corporal Keplinger Saturday. He is with the Eleventh field artillery and was in the thick of the fighting. The letter was written after the signing of the armistice. Corp. Keplinger said he had been near death many times and would tell them about it when he got home.

Trusten Stewart is with Seventh army headquarters company and is with the army of occupation in Belgium. Stewart had not been heard from by his parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. T. Stewart since October 24. This letter was dated November 24th. He said that he had been in the trenches several times and they were following the retreating Germans and at the time of writing were on the river Rhine.

Watch Your Little One Smile

Cascarets clear the clogged-up pipes, Bring joy to cross little faces. Sell for a dime—"work" every time.

MOTHERS! You can always bring back the joy smile of health with Candy Cascarets. When a child's tongue is white or if breath is feverish and stomach sour, remember a Cascaret to rid the liver and bowels of bile, nasty fermentations and constipation poison, is all that is needed. Children love this pleasant candy cathartic which never gripes, never injures. Cascarets never disappoint the worried mother. Give Cascarets to children aged one year old and upward. Each 10 cent box contains full directions.

Postmaster General Burleson says that the government should own the telephone and telegraph lines and eliminate waste in competition. The postmaster general says the extension of service should be determined by public needs and not by private gain.

Mr. Burleson will find that what the American public wants first is service and that the cost, if the service is good, is a secondary consideration. If Mr. Burleson calls it service when one wants a messenger boy and there are three in the office but the one who works in the zone in which one's residence is located does not happen to be present and the other three can't make the call, then we beg to let private corporations operate the wire systems and the interests associated with them such as messenger service.

"Silk" O'Laughlin Dead.

"Silk" O'Laughlin, one of the best known major league umpires in the country, died Friday at his home in Boston of pneumonia. O'Laughlin was for many years a big league umpire and was regarded as one of the most able officials in either league. He was one of the men always selected to handle the indicator in world's series games and has been a national figure in the baseball world. Perhaps his greatest fame and popularity came thru his peculiarity of calling balls and strikes. His "Strike Tuh," was known to baseball fans all over the world. He will be missed when the season opens. It will be many years before there will be another like him.

Quite often present day sport writers get to reminiscing about old time diamond stars without looking up the records to verify their statements. A few days ago the sport writer of the Hattiesburg, Mississippi, American got to comparing old time baseball stars, especially pitchers and catchers, with those of the present day.

He got to telling about the terrific speed of Charles, better known as "Old Hoss" Radbourne. The fact of the matter is that Radbourne was essentially a curve ball and a slow ball pitcher. Clark Griffith, now manager of the Washington American league team, was often compared to Radbourne, who tutored him up around Bloomington in the early days of his career. Griffith was always known as a slow ball pitcher and his greatest asset, aside from a good curve ball, was his control. This also was one of the secrets of Radbourne's success.

The writer also told of Bushong, of Chris Vonder Abe's Famous St. Louis Browns catching McCormick. The fact of the matter is that McCormick was a teammate of John Clarkson on the old Chicago White Sox and so far as we know never was on the same team with Bushong.

Suitable Christmas Gifts.

In accordance with our annual custom we offer the following suggestions for suitable Christmas gifts:

For the Kaiser, otherwise Bill Hohenzollern, a friend.

Senator Sherman, a new supply of vitriol.

Uncle Joe Cannon, a box of Wheeling stogies.

Bill Camp, the life of "Teddy" Roosevelt.

The United States senate, some news of the peace conference.

Official press censor, George Creel, some horse sense.

For J. Ham Lewis, democratic whip of the senate, a new title.

Mayor Thompson, a package of loyalty.

The city employees, some Santa Claus to cash their due bills for salary.

For the Office Girl, a new supply of personal pronouns.

For the city commissioners, a kind word.

The democratic party, a new slogan.

The night police force, enough members to form a eucure game.

To the old world, everlasting peace and good will toward men.

APPRECIATION OF MRS. WARD.

The Official Board of Grace M. E. church at a recent meeting appointed a Committee to prepare an expression of sympathy in view of the recent decease of Mrs. John N. Ward. The committee so appointed has submitted the following appreciation:

To the Memory of Mrs. John N. Ward.

The Official Board of Grace M. E. church and especially the older members of the congregation realize that they have sustained an irreparable loss in the passing to the Homeland of Mrs. Jennie Kimman Ward, who for fifty one years has been a member of Grace Church, interested and active in all its departments, particularly the Sunday School.

Endowed with a brilliant mind which was trained by study and enriched with letters, she had unusual gifts as a teacher, both with the children and with adult classes. For many years she was the highly successful superintendent of the Primary department and later she taught classes of young women as long as her strength permitted. Her daily life also was an impressive lesson to her pupils.

In the Aid Society and the Missionary Societies she was always a leading spirit, lending her courageous help to the undertaking of all great enterprises.

In the prayer meeting she was a regular and active participant. Her prayer was an inspiration to others, swelling her strong Christian faith, her grasp of spiritual truths and her fellowship with her Heavenly Father.

She gave herself freely to the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom on Earth and for the helping of others. Many will honor her memory for the loving sacrifices which she made for them.

Her work was characterized by intelligence, thoroughness and faithfulness. She had a large vision of the needs of the Community, giving valuable leadership in the affairs of the Woman's College, the Passavant Hospital, the Aute Salom League work, the Women's Club and all movements for the betterment of the city. Thru these means she sought to carry out the will of the Master and still more to bring other to a knowledge of Him.

To her husband, our brother, John N. Ward, and her daughters and other members of the family

we extend our most heartfelt sympathy.

Alfred T. Capps, William C. McCullough, Committee of the Official Board.

MEN IN MILITARY POLICE SEE VARIED SERVICE

History of Thirty-third Company is Traced by Sergt. Frank Merrill—Story Runs From Texas to France.

The interesting story of the movements of the Thirty-third military police Co. is told in a letter just received by Mr. and Mrs. James S. Merrill from their son, Sergt. Frank Merrill. A number of Jacksonville soldiers are in this company most of whom were members of Company B of the Illinois National guard. They were among the very first men from this county to get into the service. The letter which gives in a very clear and readable way the history of the company's movements from the time they entered the service until recently will be printed in two installments. The first one is herewith given.

At last we are able to tell a little of what has taken place since we left the United States and here goes:

We left Camp Logan, Texas, at 12 noon on May 9th, 1918. We loaded at the side tracks near camp and very few people were there to see us off. Reason military police. We had a very pleasant trip and as soon as we reached the other side of the Mason Dixon line we knew that the south was not over the Civil war for we had great receptions wherever we stopped. The country in the state of New York had more pretty scenes than any of the states we passed thru. We arrived at New York on May 14th early in the morning and were loaded on ferries and taken to Long Island and proper. The scene in the harbor cannot be described for there were ships of all kinds moving around. This was the first time that I had seen a battleship or any big liners. We could see the Statue of Liberty, all the big bridges and in fact there was so much to see that we did not have time to take it all in.

We landed and got on the train and rode about 60 miles to Camp Upton, L. I., and then marched about two miles to our barracks, arriving there at 10:45 p. m. the same day. While in this camp we were issued all of the equipment that we were supposed to have and which we found out later that we could get along without. There was quite a lot of work to be done in seeing that all of the papers of the company were correct but we got by o. k.

Petty and I were given leave to visit New York City and made the trip most of the way in an auto, and got to see a lot of the pretty homes on the island. We caught the electric railway at some little station and went thru the tube under the river and got off at the Pennsylvania station. From here on I don't know what streets we were on or just where we were. We went up to Broadway and Fifth avenue and then that the traffic was thick but I found out later that there was no traffic at all compared to some of the traffic that we later had to handle. This was on Saturday that we went to New York City and we did not get there until about 7 p. m. We left Broadway and went to the Bowery and there sure are some sights in that place. We were walking around in China Town when we saw Delmonico's sign so in we went and strolled around in this high-class joint. People in full dress and all that.

The dining room is all decorated in Chinese with tables inlaid with pearl and it sure was some place. We were out for a time so what did we care. The menu was all in Chinese so we ordered a dinner by pointing at it in the menu. We never did know what we ate but we got away with it. It sure was funny. Everybody watching everybody else to see how you ate some of the stuff and we lead off on every course.

After eating we went back up town and wandered around until about 12:30 a. m. then went to bed at the Calvert hotel. This was the last time that I have even seen a bed. The next morning we started out by eating all the cakes and eggs that we could hold. We ran out Dutch and some more of the fellows from the company. We did not know what to do or where to go so we got an auto and drove thru Central park and saw all the 400 out for their morning horseback ride or car ride. We then went to Coney Island and looked the place over but that place did not impress me as very much. After returning to the city we took a sight-seeing bus on Fifth avenue and looked all the brown stones over and then went to the train. We received permission to stay over until the late train so we ate all that we could hold and then went to the show and after that we went back to camp.

We entrained at 2 a. m. from camp and went to the ferry this on May 21. We then went to the liner which was the U. S. S. Leviathan which was the German ship, the Vaterland, the largest ship on the sea. We arrived and were assigned to bunks on the deck above the water line and near the rear of the ship. We got on the ship about 9 a. m. and had to stay below all of that day and were not allowed on deck until after we were out to sea. In the meantime we learned that the German government had offered $1,000,000 to the one who sank the ship but tales like that did not affect us very much. We sailed at 4:30 p. m. on the 2nd and had a smooth trip all the way. We had life boat drill every day and our company took exercises on the deck every day. The sailors and officers on the ship took to our company for they were always full of life and we received many compliments for the appearance of the company and for their spirit. There were 15,000 troops on board and they were fed twice a day with good eats and all that they wanted. All the men were in one dining room and it took some system to get this done with out some trouble but everything went by all right.

On the morning of the 30th we heard the reports of the guns on deck and knew that the subs were busy. About fifty shots were fired and it was reported that three subs were sunk. About 12 hours previous to this we were met by five submarine destroyers who stayed with the ship the rest of the way in. During the time of the firing there was no excitement in our compartment but in place of being excited all the fellows were cheering the gunners and we did not realize the danger that we were in until after it was all over. The concussion from the guns shook the whole ship, shattering doors and windows. About an hour later we were allowed on deck and could see land and in a very few minutes we were in the harbor at Brest, France. We stayed on the ship until the next morning and then unloaded into small ships and were taken to shore.

We all had very heavy packs and the hike to the Pontanezen, Bks. where we pitched shelter tents was up hill all the way and we were all in by the time we reached there. We stayed there until June 2nd at which time we entrained for our ride to the forward area. While at Brest we saw the first French people and they sure looked to be a dirty lot. The houses and barns are all built together and the sanitary conditions were something awful. The people wash their clothes in little cement pools and never think of using hot water. All the houses here and every place else that we have been, are made of cement for the supply of wood in this country is very limited.

We loaded on the train which was made up of small box cars marked 40 Hommes or 8 Chaveau meaning 40 men or 8 horses and when you get 40 men with their equipment in one of these cars there is not room to even sit down and when you are in this crowded condition it is no fun to make a two day trip. No chance to sleep at all. Our eats on this trip were bully beef and bread with a little jam to sweeten it.

The country that we passed thru was very pretty, lots of hills and roads. The funny part about the trip was the fact that every time that the train crew, which was French, ran out of wine they would stop and fill up their bottles and then we would continue. We landed at Osebut at 6:30 p. m. on June 4th and when we got off the train we were so cramped that we could hardly stand up. We put on our packs and they had about three times as much in them at that time than it has now. We hiked to what they call a staging camp where we got a cup of coffee and breakfast and then started on our first real march. We went to Huppy France and got there at noon and the bunch was about all in but they would not let on and that has been their attitude ever since. We were billeted in barns and slept on the ground. It was here that we saw our first air fight and all that you can say about an air fight is that you see two planes in the air and can hear the sound of the machine guns and then one of them either falls or they separate and fly different directions. Huppy is a very small place and nothing happened here of interest except that we got rid of a lot of stuff that we never needed such as a blanket, extra suit of clothes, red cross stuff, etc.

We left Huppy at 8 a. m. June 10th with everything that we owned on our backs besides rifles, pistols, 100 rounds of 30-30 Cal. ammunition and 21 rounds of 45 Cal. and when I got it all on me it was sure some job to walk for it weighed almost as much as I did. We also carried rations for two days. We made 14 miles by 1 a. m. and stopped for the day. After eating bully beef and bread we pitched "pup tents" and then looked after our feet. I had a blister about the size of a half dollar on my heel and the skin had rubbed off of it and it did not feel the best in the world. I soaked my feet in a stream of water and took the heat out of them and covered the blister with tape. In the meantime it had started to rain and the sleeping was a little damp but we were so tired that we did not know the difference. We started out the next morning at 8 a. m. and made 14 more miles by 1:30 p. m. and arrived at our destination at Eu. My feet did not bother me until we reached the city of Eu and then the arch of my left foot gave way and walking got a little hard. We were billeted in barns at this place for the first night and I slept on the cement around the well, using my shoes for a pillow. I got some tape and bound my foot and kept it that way for three months and it got o. k. again. For about four days I could hardly walk but it is as good as ever now.

For the Little Ones

Let not a single child be disappointed on Christmas morning. Dolls and Toys are the gifts that bring the sparkle to their eyes and give the household the old-time Christmas cheer. Let the big-heartedness of kind Old St. Nick be cherished in the minds of the little ones until they have out-grown toy days—and are ready for the stern realities of life. Have you paid our Toy Store a visit? Have you seen the six big tables "loaded to the guard" with just the kinds of toys boys and girls are now dreaming about—and wishing their dreams would come true? You fathers of healthy romping boys, drop in tomorrow—see the auto whirl around the race track—you'll become a small boy again yourself—want to get down on your hands and knees and "go to it" just as you did empty-eleven years ago. But a few more buying days remain. Christmas is just around the corner. Decide now to make it a day the family never will forget.

BLUFFS MAN DIED AT STATE HOSPITAL

Albert Lane Made Insane By Influenza, Dies at Hospital After Brief Illness—Miss Lucy Kesterson Passed Away Saturday.

Bluffs, Dec. 21.—Albert Lane who became suddenly insane during an attack of influenza, died at Jacksonville State Hospital Friday afternoon.

Lane was taken ill with influenza some time ago and developed signs of insanity. He was at the Wabash Hotel and had a guard to prevent him from escaping.

Last Sunday night he eluded the guard and got away. He was finally placed in custody again and later was brought to Jacksonville State Hospital where he only lived a short time.

Deceased was about 40 years of age and had been residing in Bluffs for about two years. He worked at day laboring and so far as known had no near relatives, being very reticent in telling about his past life.

It was learned that his mother was buried in Meredosia cemetery and the remains were interred beside her Saturday.

Miss Lucy Kesterson, aged 20 years, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kesterson, died at 2 o'clock Saturday morning of pneumonia. She was taken ill with influenza about two weeks ago and pneumonia developed which resulted in death.

Miss Kesterson had been in the employ of the Farmers' Telephone Company here and was most faithful and efficient in the discharge of her duties.

She had recently been appointed chief operator for the Farmers and Merchants Telephone Company at Meredosia by George W. VanGrundy of Bluffs who purchased the plant and has been making extensive improvements.

Miss Kesterson was a member of the Bluffs M. E. church and was a young woman whose many admirable qualities had won for her countless friends in the community. Her death will be the source of genuine regret throughout the entire village.

Besides her parents, she is survived by three brothers, Harvey Kesterson, Clayton; Lee Roy Kesterson, of Missouri, and Benjamin Kesterson of Bluffs. On sister, Mrs. Charles Wolford, preceded her in death.

HALPIN FUNERAL IN BLUFFS FRIDAY

Last Rites for Mrs. S. Halpin Held Friday Morning at Late Residence—Other News Notes.

Bluffs, Dec. 20.—The funeral of Mrs. S. Halpin was held at the family residence at 10 o'clock Friday in the presence of relatives and close friends. The words of consolation were spoken by the Rev. E. J. Rees who chose for his theme, Mark 14-8 "See hath done what she could." The following hymns were beautifully sung by the quartette of the M. P. church, "My Jesus, I Love Thee," "Crossing the Bar," and "Good Night." The flowers were in charge of Miss Bernice Wolford and Mrs. E. L. Kendall. The bearers were Messrs. E. D. Beird, Clifford Mills, W. H. Green, Clark Taylor, Wm. Thompson, Wm. Busch. The remains were taken to Concord for burial.

Cora Estelle Patterson, daughter of Wm. J. and Isabella Patterson was born at Concord, Morgan county, September 25, 1866. She received her early education there and in her girlhood days united with the Christian church of that city which membership she retained to the remainder of her life. She was united in marriage to Sylvester Halpin, April 25, 1888. Three children were born, Frank Halpin, Springfield, Mrs. Paul Green and Mrs. Charles Fitzsimmons, Bluffs. All of whom with the husband survive. In the passing of Mrs. Halpin, Bluffs has lost a valuable citizen and the family a dear devoted wife and mother whose place can never be filled.

Rev. E. J. Rees was called to Canton Thursday to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. James Cluts, a former parishioner.

Dr. E. D. Canatsey was called here Tuesday by the serious illness of Mrs. Edna Oakes who is suffering from pneumonia.

Miss Gertrude Patterson of Minneapolis, Minn., is a guest at the home of S. Halpin, having been called here by the death of her sister.

A SUCCESSFUL CLOVER SEED HULLER

A rather unusually important industry the past season has been clover seed hulling and some farmers have had very profitable crops. S. M. Jumper of Sinclair precinct had hulled the crop of about a thousand acres and estimates the total yield at something over 1200 bushels. The bumper crop was that of Neil McGhee who had 17 acres that yielded 68 bushels. William Lindsay had 60 acres that went to three bushels to the acre and from that it went on down to half a bushel to the acre. Another member of the Lindsay family had a load of hay that yielded five bushels and another four. Seed generally was worth $18 to $20 a bushel. It is hard work to make much even at a high price for hulling as the machinery is costly. Three men are required to run the huller. Work can be done only when the hay is dry, and jobs are often far apart, necessitating costly moves. Mr. Jumper said he had had sixty customers and it has been the best year he ever had.

Jesse L. Petefish Writes from France

Everywhere in France, Nov. 6, 1918. Hello Everybody:
At last we have stopped long enough for our mail to catch up with us and we have all been busy reading our letters. There is just one thing we crave more than sweets and that is letters from old Illinois.

We received two from Lora, one from father, Grace, Stella, two from Jimmie, one from Ames Gordon and several from our girl friends; but I expect we will have them all worn out reading them by the time the next mail reaches us.

We are traveling so fast they call us the circus artillery, or seeing France by moonlight.

We are all three feeling fine, but don't mention those nice sunny days for we don't have many over here. It is raining now and feels like it might snow before morning. Quite likely we will wake up some morning covered with a nice blanket of snow, but that won't hurt us.

I suppose you have read in the papers how we celebrated Halloween? We surely "cut up" some, and Oh! the noise of thousands of these big guns all going at once. But the boys didn't pay any more attention to the Germans than we used to poor Uncle C., when we would play pranks on him Halloween and he used to get after us with his gun, and we have the Boche on the run, and we are traveling rapidly towards Berlin. But I am afraid I can't make Litterberry by Xmas, but feed the old hens good and make them lay lots of eggs. I will be home by Easter.

Jimmie didn't tell us a word about getting married, but tell his wife she must have dinner for three about the time strawberries are ripe.

Orville, Earl and myself are all as fine as can be. In our first engagement we never had off our clothes for eight days, and we never ceased firing our guns for thirteen hours.

Wish I could get hold of some late papers to see what the Huns have to say now. They surely should be made to pay dearly for all the ruin and misery they have been responsible for the past four years.

We have peace rumors constantly, but the Hun is still asking too much. He now has no choice in the matter, but shall have to take what we want to give him. I am sending some propaganda dropped behind our lines from a Boche airplane. They must think the Yanks are easy marks or else are asleep.

This is the fourth drive we have participated in. We have been in the front lines practically all the time for three months. I don't know whether this can be a drive or a chase, for they run so fast they soon run out of range.

Lora was right when she told us last summer we would get her just in time to see the enemy turn and run towards home. They have their faces toward the fatherland alright.

Wish I had a canteen of that sorghum molasses you made, Earl and I have a can of condensed milk and we pour it on our hard tack and it tastes awful good. Hard tack and "money" is our chief diet while in action.

Hope there is lots of candy in my Christmas box. I have paid from $1.50 to $2.00 for a quart jar of jam or marmalade. We have tobacco, both smoking and chewing issued to us now, but that don't do me any good, but it helps some of my best friends. They get mine, and their own share, too.

I am not going to tell you any of the horrors of war. You know too much of them now and what you can't realize I expect you imagine. I have seen things I do not want to remember, but I know I shall never forget.

Sherman said, "War is hell!" but he must have been at a Sunday school picnic, for it is worse than that. But Heine is getting his share of it now, so it doesn't matter so much.

It is getting about time for mess and we cannot have any lights at night, for a Boche airman would be only too delighted to drop a bomb on us. I know it will make me nervous to see an automobile run with headlights and to see a house illuminated. I expect I will start yelling, "Put out that light" or I will shoot it out, and if I hear our auto klaxon I suppose I will grab for my gas mask.

Will be home in time to help harvest that big wheat crop so don't worry about us for we are alright and getting better every day.

Love to all,

Jesse L. Petefish.

Battery A, 124 F. A.

Three Litterberry boys, Orville and Jesse Petefish and Earl Myers, enlisted with Battery A, 124th F. A., at Springfield, Ill., August 1, 1917. The command was then a National Guard organization but was immediately mustered into the U. S. service and trained at Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, with the 33rd Division, known as the Prairie Division, and consisted of Illinois National Guard troops.

The division was sent overseas during the latter part of May, 1918. The 122nd, 123rd and 124th Field Artillery regiments have since been operating as the Fifty-eighth Field Artillery brigade under command of Brigadier General Todd. In a recent letter to Gov. Lowden, Colonel Davis of the 123rd F. A., and which was published recently in the State Journal was enclosed various official orders covering recent battles in which the Fifty-eighth artillery has been engaged. That the people at home may see recorded how truly their soldiers are fighting and maintaining the traditions of Illinois:

In Battle Fifteen Days
"Citations are not common in the American army but we greatly value such as we've received. We are doing our bit. Sometimes I wish it was more, but always it is the most that is in us. We started the last attack northward of Verdun and we stayed in the battle over fifteen days, during which this regiment fired nearly two and one half million pounds of shells before being relieved. We fought the Prussian guard, infantry and artillery, on our particular sector and beat them, but their resistance was fierce and stubborn, and the battle yet goes on. This point is the pivot and the enemy must resist at all costs. The battle of St. Mihiel salient in which the Fifty-eighth was previously engaged was more spectacular but not so hotly contested. In both battles the enemy was thrown out of works occupied and fortified by him for four years. Nothing could withstand our artillery preparation which is one of the most terrific affairs to be imagined. Thousands of guns create one great crash extending for hours and then at the eleventh hour as the fire intensifies and the 75's start their rolling barrage. We're going over the top. One touches his cap and says a prayer for it is then the infantryman's battle."

Copy of Citation Order
The following is the copy of citation order which has been sent to relatives of soldiers who are members of Battery A, 124th F. A.:
Headquarters of First Division, September, 19.
"The division commander cites the 124th Field Artillery for distinguished conduct during the operations against the enemy in the St. Mihiel salient Sept. 12-13, for great devotion to duty and efficiency in advancing over muddy and difficult roads under the worst possible weather conditions, and rendering at all times invaluable support."
By order of Major General Summerall.
On September 17th, Major Dickman, who is now leading the American army into Germany, transmitted the following order from General Pershing, commending the 124th regiment as well as the 122nd and 123rd F. A., all of which are Illinois troops. "Please accept my sincere congratulations on the successful and important part taken by the officers and men of your brigade. The courageous dash and vigor of our troops have thrilled our country and evoke the enthusiasm of our allies. Please convey to your command my heartfelt appreciation of their splendid work. I am proud of you all."
Gen. Pershing.
The three regiments were also commended by their brigade commander for gallantry and efficiency in action.
Relatives and friends are justly proud of these commendations and citations of the commands to which these Litterberry soldiers belong. Two citations mean decorations for the members of these commands.

From Fred W. Lashmet

Charles L. Lashmet of Franklin, route 2, has received the following letter from his son, Fred W. Lashmet, somewhere in France. Fred enlisted June 24, 1917, at Yuma, Colorado and was sent to Camp Baldwin, Denver, Colo. He was there four months and was then sent to Camp Kearney, San Diego, Calif. He left there June 12, 1918, for Camp Merritt, N. J., and from there was sent overseas.

Nov. 15, 1918.
My Dear Folks:
Well I will write you all a few lines as I have been on the firing line for the last twenty days and went thru without getting a scratch and I am sure a happy boy since last November 11th, when the war ended.

I was, or I mean, we machine gunners, put on a big barrage that morning and were shelled bad but we all came out all O. K. At 11 o'clock Monday, Nov. 11, 1918, every cannon and fire arm of every kind started and the boys began to yell and said peace was declared, and about 11:30 o'clock one dozen Boches came up to us unarmed and said that everything was finished. Well I hope I can eat Christmas dinner at home with you all this year, 1918.

My Dear Folks:
Well I will write you all a few lines as I have been on the firing line for the last twenty days and went thru without getting a scratch and I am sure a happy boy since last November 11th, when the war ended.

From Fred W. Lashmet

Charles L. Lashmet of Franklin, route 2, has received the following letter from his son, Fred W. Lashmet, somewhere in France. Fred enlisted June 24, 1917, at Yuma, Colorado and was sent to Camp Baldwin, Denver, Colo. He was there four months and was then sent to Camp Kearney, San Diego, Calif. He left there June 12, 1918, for Camp Merritt, N. J., and from there was sent overseas.

Nov. 15, 1918.

My Dear Folks:
Well I will write you all a few lines as I have been on the firing line for the last twenty days and went thru without getting a scratch and I am sure a happy boy since last November 11th, when the war ended.

I was, or I mean, we machine gunners, put on a big barrage that morning and were shelled bad but we all came out all O. K. Well I hope I can eat Christmas dinner at home with you all this year, 1918.

My, oh my, I will be glad to be home once more with you all and have a good meal once more. We have had a tough old time and slept on the cold wet ground and some days went without a bite to eat and when I get home why I can tell you one whole lot and my experiences on the front. I was a runner here in machine gun company at first but now I am assigned to the gun squad and like it fine, so much better than the infantry.

The mail has just come in and no mail for me yet. I can't imagine why I don't get a letter, unless nobody writes to me.

Well I will be home some of these days and I can tell you how I saw the war.

There have been a great many prisoners pass thru here the last two days and I saw one woman that also was a prisoner. It sure is bad to see France. It is all torn up and the homes and buildings torn to pieces by big shells.

I am feeling fine and also glad the war is over for it sure does try a man's mind. Well I will close for the time being and hope I hear from you soon. So good bye.

Your soldier boy,
Pvt. Fred W. Lashmet.

Dear Sister:

Yours of an early date was gladly received which found me well at present time and truly hope these few lines from hand to hand will find you and all the rest of the folks enjoying the best things of life. Give all my best regards and tell them to look for me any time between now and spring, and I think you no longer need to worry about me. Say sister I saw Frank Waffall and Eugene Carter last night. We are in the same town. Tell Cecil that I haven't seen Oscar yet but I suppose that he is somewhere. Frank and Eugene are both well; also the rest of the boys from Jacksonville. Tell Lenora that uncle lost her address, that is why she has never heard from him. But I am very glad to hear of her being well. Tell Iva that I have written her three letters and have never received any answer yet, but have had two letters from Clara stating that she had heard from her and Constance and both were well. So I think it is pretty near time I was hearing from Iva herself. I would write oftener but haven't paper and envelopes to write with, so don't blame me for not writing. The people in France won't hardly sell anything especially those of this section of France where we are located everything with them when they don't want to sell anything is furnished. Tell Mrs. Bell I send regards to her and her husband and hope she soon recovers from her sickness. Well this is all. From your brother,

There is no worse folly not one more certain of distressing consequence than to neglect a cold. It leaves "a cough that hangs on," it threatens you with a most serious condition.

Foley's Honey and Tar

gives the curative influence of the pine balsam, together with the mollifying effect of the honey and other healing ingredients. It stops the cough, eases the sore feeling in the chest, and raises phlegm easily. It imparts a pleasant feeling of warmth and comfort.

J. J. Entekin, Winston, Ga., writes:—"Foley's Honey and Tar took all the soreness away and cleared my lungs of all congestion."

CHURCH SERVICES

Mt. Emory Baptist church, Corner Church and Marion street.—A hearty welcome meeting and song service beginning at 10:30 and lasting until 11 o'clock, when the regular preaching service will begin. We hope to have a full attendance as it is the first meeting in two months. All are welcome.

State Street Presbyterian church will hold a church service at 10:45 Sunday morning. Dr. F. M. Rule will fill the pulpit. As services have not been held for so long a time, a good attendance is desired. There will be no Sunday school or evening service.

McCabe M. E. church, M. L. Mackay, pastor.—There will be only one service and that at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach on "Providence." A duet "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" will be sung by Mrs. Mayme Mackay and M. L. Mackay. All are welcome to this church.

Northminster church, corner Court and Fayette streets.—Divine worship will be conducted by the assistant pastor, J. H. Morphis, at 10:45 a. m. Subject "The Rectifying Influence of the Sanctuary." 7:30 p. m. A sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Spoons, this sermon written "overseas" and sent over for delivery to the people at home. Notes—All people not united elsewhere will be

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company" — Adv.

welcome to these services. All contributing members please bring or send all you owe the church to these services. Salvation is free, but it takes lots of money to run a church. Dec. 29th at 9:30 a. m. we hope to resume the work of the Sunday school and on that date to distribute the literature for the first quarter of 1919. January the 5th, 1919. The first quarterly communion will be held. Members received. Children baptized. Those desiring to unite with the church please notify or call on the pastor.

Westminster church, Edward B. Landis, pastor.—The morning worship will be held at 10:45, with sermon by the pastor. This is the first opportunity we have had for some weeks to meet together in the Lord's House, and it is hoped all who can will avail themselves of the opportunity. No other services during the day. The public is most cordially invited.

Salem Evangelical Lutheran church, East College street.—Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor. Fourth Sunday in Advent. Public worship at 10:30 a. m. A student of Springfield will preach. There will be no evening service. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Trinity Episcopal church—4th. Sunday in Advent. Morning prayer and sermon 10:45. J. P. Langton, rector.

First Baptist Church—A. A. Todd, pastor. Welcome to one service Sunday, 10:40 a. m. at which time the pastor will preach "I was Glad When They Said Unto Me, Let Me Go Into the House of the Lord." The Committee on "Enlistment Week" will meet Sunday 2:30 p. m., at the church. This meeting is very important. All members urged to attend. Prayer meeting Thursday 7:30 p. m.

Grace Methodist Episcopal church, F. B. Madden, minister.—Public worship 10:45 a. m. Mr. Madden will preach. The quartet for today is Miss Louise Pleten-er, and Mildred Applebee and Messrs. Robinson and Hopkins. The anthems are "Sing, O Heavens" by Tours and "Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning" by Farston. Professor Stearns will give the offertory "From Two Christmas Hymns" by Guilmont. All members and friends are cordially invited to avail themselves of this opportunity for congregational worship. No other service today. All rules of the Board of Health for public assemblies will be cheerfully observed. There will be no Sunday school or Christmas concert but Santa Claus unless he gets the "flu," will be at the south entrance to the church from 2 to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with a sack for each boy and girl in the Beginners, the Primary and the Junior department. All these pupils are invited to meet him at that time and place.

Morning service will be held at the usual hour at the Congregational church. The pastor, Rev. W. E. Collins, will preach on the subject "Our Christmas Joy" and there will be special Christmas music.

Yule at 2n Bethel M. L. ggg ffd Central Christian church, Myron L. Pontius, minister.—There will be only one service, the regular morning service, at 10:45 o'clock. The subject of the sermon, by the pastor, will be "The Star of Bethlehem." There will be special Christmas music by Sextette choir under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson, "Still Chime the Merry Christmas Bells" by Cuthbert Harris, "O' Child of Mary's Gentle Care" by Shelley.

Centenary M. E. church.—Because of the illness of the pastor the pulpit will be occupied this morning by Rev. C. W. Caseley, pastor of the Methodist church at Winchester. The morning service will be the only one held in this church today, in accordance with the recent agreement of the members of the Ministerial association.

Bethel A. M. E. church, J. H. Fisher, pastor.—The pastor will preach at 11 o'clock. No other services during the day. General Class and Love Feast Friday night.

LAWRENCE BLUE HOME

Another arrival of colored men from Camp Grant is Lawrence Blue who has recently arrived in the city. He was one of the band with the 812th regiment and played the B B bass horn. He has with him a wonderfully fine picture of the entire re-ward of 3,000 men. It is on exhibition in the window of the Journal office where it is much admired. Mr. Blue had a pleasant experience while wearing the khaki and comes back with an honorable discharge.

PEACE ENDS GOVERNMENT WAR NEEDS FOR WALNUT

The need of walnut stumps ended with the signing of the armistice, according to a letter received by Prof. Walter Hand-schin, vice director of the extension service of the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois, from D. W. Working, acting chief of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Ordnance Department and the Bureau of Aircraft Production have withdrawn their request that walnut stumps be disposed of in a patriotic manner by converting all the walnut logs as far as possible, into airplane propeller lumber and gunstock blanks. The purchase of walnut is now viewed by them as a purely commercial transaction and the conversion of this wood into veneers and lumber is regarded entirely proper.

These departments desire to convey to the owners of walnut stumps and to the lumber fraternity in general their hearty appreciation of the co-operation shown by which they very materially aided in supplying the walnut needs during the great national emergency.

NOTES FROM THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Short Course.
The two weeks' short course officially called "The Corn Growers' and Stockmen's Convention" will be held at the University of Illinois January 20th to 31st. An especially strong program is being arranged and all those who attend will carry away enough of learning and enthusiasm and determination to greatly repay them for the effort. The only necessary expenses will be railroad fare and the cost of living.

Quails Destroy Cinch Bugs.
The quail is one of the best factors aiding in the destruction of insects and obnoxious weed seeds. As high as 400 cinch bugs have been found in a quail's crop. These birds are especially active in picking out bugs from hedge rows, bunches of grass and other covers which are difficult to reach by burning. This makes a strong plea for protecting these insect destroying birds.

Saving Hogs With Pneumonia.
In Peoria county a farmer had 126 hogs out of 138 sick with pneumonia. The county agent recommended the removal of all chances for draft, the cleaning out of dusty bedding and that he employ a competent veterinarian to administer one-half pint of oil and to give them bacteria for mixed infection. He was also advised to put Glaubers Salts in drinking water.

The farmer who did not think there was any chance for their recovery had little faith in the treatment but finally consented to treat the hogs, got in his car, went to the nearest village, bought Glaubers salts and made arrangements by phone to have a competent veterinarian come out and treat them. Last week the farmer reported that out of 126 only five died. All but three of the remainder are back on full feed and doing well. These three are not making gains very fast. As a general thing, it pays to employ a good veterinarian and follow his directions faithfully.

A THREE MILLION DOLLAR PHONOGRAPH FOR $285.00

That may sound like exaggeration but it's a fact. Mr. Edison spent over $3,000,000.00 in research work before the official laboratory model was placed on sale and instructions given to go ahead. The $285.00 model is the same as the laboratory model on which all records and tone tests are made. As a musical value it surpasses any piano on the market and we all know that $285.00 is a very small price to pay for a piano. If you want real music in your home during the holidays and all the year around, buy an Edison. You will never regret it. The superb tones of this instrument pealing through your home will add a joy and pleasure untold and cause both you and your family to forget the cares of the day and the worries of the world without. Call at Brady Bros. any day this week and see and hear this wonderful instrument. Other Models $120.00, $175.00, $220.00

CHRISTMAS OFFERING CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY

The American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief has asked the Sunday schools of America to give a Christmas gift of $2,000,000 to the 400,000 homeless, homeless children in these Bible lands. The Congregational Sunday school has decided to fall in line and will be one of the Sunday schools of America giving a Christmas gift to this cause.

Anyone in the church wishing to help save these children may hand the money to any one of the committee, Miss Georgia Fairbank, Catherine Wilson, Mrs. L. S. Doane.

The Crucial Moment

Drawing is required from a graph of the final test of Anna Case's Lucia RE-CREATION.

Note the alert concentration expressed in every face. It is a tense moment in the Edison Recording Laboratories. Anna Case, the wonderfully gifted soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, is testing the quality of the RE-CREATION she has made of the famous Mad Scene from Lucia. A jury composed of other eminent artists and of laboratory experts is listening intently.

The instrument begins to play the RE-CREATION. Miss Case joins in. Through the bare room soared that beautiful voice, thrilling in its dramatic intensity. Suddenly the artist ceases. The instrument continues alone. Can one shade of difference be detected? That is the question. Are the living voice and the RE-CREATION exactly alike, or can one be told from the other? Is some subtle shade of tone color missing from the RE-CREATION? Is some glint of warmth and fire lacking? The answer is "No". The RE-CREA-TION has met the test of tests. It can be released for the December list.

Tests similar to this one have been held more than 1500 times in public. More than thirty famous artists have participated in them, singing or playing in direct comparison with their own RE-CREATIONS. More than two million people have attended these Edison tone tests. Several hundred music critics have reported them and the verdict has been unanimous that the voice of the artist and the instrument are indistinguishable.

No other sound reproducing instrument has ever been subjected to the searching tone test. No other instrument could successfully meet so drastic a trial. When you listen to the New Edison you are hearing the artist's own voice. RE-CREATED with complete fidelity. On any other instrument you are hearing not a RE-CREATION, but merely an imitation.

Call tomorrow and listen to a demonstration of

Homestead Lands for Soldiers and Sailors

The government is going to help these boys to secure a homestead. Great bodies of fine grass-covered agricultural and grazing lands in section allotments will be available for entry, on the most favorable terms, by honorably discharged soldiers and sailors. Government-irrigated lands, available prize, will be part of the National bounty. Thousands of our young men who have been drawn by war into an outdoor life will never go back to indoor salaried jobs.

12,000 acres of the finest Government-irrigated lands at Deaver, Wyo., are expected soon to be opened for entry, with perpetual water rights. You should interest yourself at once, so by the time your boy returns, you can inform him as to just what the Government proposes to do. I am employed by the Burlington to inform and aid you along these lines. Get in touch with me.

Neuritis

An Inflammation of a Nerve or Nerves

NEURITIS is a trouble that has become all too common during recent years, yet it is one that yields readily to Chiropractic adjustments.

NEURITIS is a condition of dis-ease that is hard to endure, and if allowed to run often leads to serious consequences.

IF A SUFFERER, I should like to talk to you, and to have the opportunity of convincing you what scientific Chiropractic can do in your case.

NO DIARY FOR HIM

One Experience Enough for Mr.

Wilbur.

In Common With Most People, That
"Bug" Had Bitten Him Once, and With Emphasis He Declares
"Never Again."

As the 7:15 neared the station Billers reached into his pocket and drew forth a little leather-covered book. He shook down his fountain pen and wrote:

"Day sunny. Had apple pie and cheese for breakfast. Feeling fine. Baby fell and skinned his little nose. Wife wants a new dress like sample in vest pocket. Rent due next week. Not feeling as well as I did."

"I see," said Billers' friend Wilbur, glancing over his shoulder, "that you keep a diary."

"Don't you keep a diary?" asked Billers, placing his daily record back in its resting place.

"If I keep a diary I lose it," replied Wilbur paradoxically, "and to keep a diary that you'd eventually lose is bad business."

"I used to keep a diary. At one time it was my pet hobby. I'd buy the finest gilt-edged little book I could find, make a few entries and lose it immediately. It was very annoying."

"I used to make my entries too intimate. You know how it is. All diarists do the same thing. While a diary is in close communion with one's soul for a time, the day comes when it faces the world."

"Imagine the foolishness of a man who writes the following in a diary that he knows he'll eventually lose:

"Called on Mary Jane last night. That she will accept me for better or worse I have no doubt. Carrie will rave when she hears of my engagement to Mary Jane!" I wrote it.

"Another entry read: 'What a day! I haven't a cent to my credit at the bank. And yet the world looks upon me as an example of prosperity. I hope I can keep up the bluff until the tailor has my wedding outfit delivered. I should worry when Mary Jane's dad has a cool million. Oh, boy!'

The last notation I made was on a Friday, the 13th, and, while not of a superstitious nature, a strange feeling permeated my soul as I penned the following:

"For a wedding present I believe Mary Jane's pa will give her at least $100,000 in cash or collateral. While the old man could easily afford more to begin with, I feel that more will come later. I think he likes me. Why shouldn't he?"

"I dropped the diary on Mary Jane's sun porch as I went away that night, and when I discovered my loss you can imagine my feelings."

"Awful to contemplate!" exclaimed Billers. "Mary Jane found it and all was off, I'll venture."

"No," said Wilbur. "Mary Jane's little brother found it, and being a businesslike little chap held it up for a $10 ransom."

Good Yield on Sod Land.

An instructive and practically useful account of how a third of an acre of pasture land two miles from the center of Leeds, Yorkshire, England, was made to provide food sufficient fully to maintain three men for a year is published by the board of agriculture from the pen of A. G. Ruston of the University of Leeds.

The land had been under grass for at least 50 years, when last year it was divided into plots and planted with potatoes by Mr. Bedford, former lord mayor of the city, and some of his friends. The crop aggregated three tons sixteen hundredweight, which is at the rate of 11.4 per acre, as compared with 6.7 tons per acre, which was the average for the farm crops of Great Britain last year.

A Massif.

The war continues to enrich our vocabulary. News from France that the allies have captured the entire "massif" of Lassigny will cause another searching of dictionaries, by which it will be revealed that a massif is a mountainous group of connecting heights, sometimes isolated and sometimes forming part of a larger mountain system, more or less clearly marked off by valleys. The word is French in origin, but has been adopted without change by English and American geologists and physical geographers.—Oregonian.

Engineering Pays.

Basing conclusions upon the income-tax returns, the best-paying profession in the United States is that of engineering. It excels even that of law, which long held the record, and is far ahead of those of theology and medicine. The reason for this is not difficult to find. This is a constructive age, even though the war would seem to contradict such an assertion. After the war, when reconstruction generally sets in, the engineers bid fair to become a class of plutocrats.—Christian Science Monitor.

Fast Construction.

A record for hospital building that is likely to last for a long time was made recently on work for the war department at Staten Island, N. Y. The building, a one-story frame structure with every modern convenience, was put up in just 10 hours and 28 minutes from the time work started, at seven o'clock in the morning. The hospital is 150 feet long and 24 feet wide, with a 10½-foot porch the entire length of the building on one side.

SMILE NEVER OUT OF PLACE

If One Thinks It Can Be, Here Is a Little List to Be Used as a Guide.

Get a smile in your voice, an exchange suggests.

When you talk over the telephone. When your wife tells you what you ought to have done and you try to explain why you didn't.

When your little boy asks you for something and you have to refuse.

When a confused woman with a scrambled mind is buying at your counter and doesn't know what she wants.

When you're selling tickets at the railway window and an irritating purchaser is asking forty-nine useless questions.

When you tell the waiter to hurry along with the food, as you have an engagement.

When you call up the grocer and tell him that the things you ordered two hours ago haven't come yet, and here it is about dinner time.

When you're a policeman and tell an automobilist that he can't park there, but must go over to the other side of the street.

When you're an usher in a theater and ask somebody to rise so that some other people may pass.

When you take your husband out into the next room and ask him why he brought those men to dinner without letting you know, so you could have prepared for them.

When you inform the young man that while you cannot love him as he asks, yet you will be a sister to him.

When you tell Willie and the neighbor boys not to rehearse the battle of the Somme on the front porch.

When you tell the bore. "Don't go. Here is your hat."

When you're busy and worried and somebody asks you foolish question No. 99.

When you meet an old friend unexpectedly.

When the hired girl tells you she is sorry, but the roast is burnt.

When the pup has gone off with your overshoe, or your young son has made ink marks all over an important paper on your desk, or you can't find your hat although you are positive you hung it right there, or the missus is not ready and you have barely time now to get to the show if you would see the first act, or you have to tell your clerk the same thing the tenth time, or you have done a fine act with the best of intentions and find you're in the wrong and everybody blames you for it.

Smile when you say it. You'd just as well. And don't you forget the telephone.

Ancient Czecho-Slovaks.

The Czechs are an ancient race. They were flourishing in Bohemia away back in the fifth century before Christ, and they have always been noted for their progressive spirit, for their longings in the direction of liberalism and democracy, and above all for their industrial and commercial enterprise, thanks to which they have been for the past 400 years the economic backbone of the Hapsburg monarchy.

They were independent, and therefore unfettered, until they foolishly elected Emperor Ferdinand of Austria as their ruler in 1520, not only because he was married to the daughter and heiress of St. Venceslaus, but also because he solemnly pledged himself to respect their national rights and liberties. Needless to add that Ferdinand failed to keep his promises. This is a peculiarity of the house of Hapsburg, which is at last to bring ruin upon their empire.

Excuses Somewhat "Fishy."

Two men, who are quite well off, but very miserly in their expenditure, met recently in the gallery of a theater.

Each was annoyed to be seen by the other in the cheapest place of the house.

"What brings you here?" each asked the other.

"To tell the truth," said the first. "I've got a fearful cold in my head, and as the heat ascends, I came up here where it is warm. Besides, I'm a terrible sufferer from rheumatism. But what brings you here?"

"My opera glasses!"

"Your opera glasses?"

"Yes; they enlarge too much. I can't see from the boxes what is going on on the stage. I have to come up here in the gallery to be able to see with them at all!"

Edible Fish in Bosphorus.

Dr. William W. Peet, who recently returned to the United States from Turkey, says that there are 80 varieties of edible fish in the Bosphorus. During normal times great wagonloads of these fish were carried through Constantinople. A fish 20 inches long often sold for the equivalent of five cents. The poor were thus able to obtain food for very little money. Today a similar fish is sold for ten times the usual price. "This is not because there are fewer fish in the Bosphorus," said Doctor Peet, "but because there is no longer an adequate supply of fishermen."

Much Honey in Australia.

The supply of sugar in Australia is as limited as it is here, but one part of the state of New South Wales, has an abundance of sweet on hand. It is honey. A record crop was gathered last year and next month this season's crop will be collected. Because of limited shipping space exports were stopped, but the beekeepers are now asking that the embargo be raised.

MADE BAD LANDING

Young Boche Airman Really Deserved Better Luck.

As It Was, the Youth Probably Only Escaped Ignominious Personal Chastisement by Being Made a Prisoner of War.

Although he was a boche we admired his audacity. He came humming out of the summer blue on a sultry afternoon, swooping from nowhere right in the inner guard of half a dozen of our unsuspecting kite balloons. Swift and straight as a falcon he dived, and at the rattle of his machine gun and the flash of his tracer bullets pigny figures strangely agitated came bobbing and gyrating earthward under their spreading parachutes.

Whirr! went his gun, and biff, went the first balloon, a thin train of fire leading to a scarlet blaze and a gossamer wreckage. Before one could count twelve a second sausage had shriveled into skin and the Hun plane was making tracks for home.

The "Archies" had been taken by surprise. For a moment it looked as if the unwelcome visitor would reach his lines. But suddenly the "Archies" ceased firing, and it was then we saw a British plane pursuing at a pace that could only have one result. The German "side-stepped" twice by intention and once involuntarily. He smashed into a cottage like a goat butting through a fence, his propellers going through the thatched roof and his rudder cocking up in the air. The solitary pilot was pitched into a corner of the long orchard. Little the worse for his fall. He was a small, thin, rather mean-looking young man, and he blinked stupidly at the remains of what had once been an airplane. A little dog barked at him, half a dozen vicious hens scolded him, and a very angry and very determined old lady came out of the cottage to investigate him.

She was a typical Flemish dame, massive of build, tenacious in character and practical in all things. Deliberately and of set purpose she advanced on the dazed airman. She caught him by the collar of his tunic. She shook her fist in his face, and she asked him in the incisive vernacular of the Flemish peasant what he meant by smashing up her house. She ordered him to look at the mess he had made, calculated the cost and demanded payment, all in a breath. She heaped insults on him, his parents and his airplane.

As she talked all the glory of war and the spirit of conquest evaporated from the flying Hun. He shrank till he looked like a small boy caught in a mean theft; his airplane, with its gaudy splashes, resembled a broken toy, and he tugged ruefully at his hair, and flushed and stammered and edged cautiously away.

As he retired the old woman advanced, and I am convinced that but for the prompt arrival of a guard of grinning Tommies she would have spanked that unhappy Teuton youth. Never did a man surrender so eagerly.

When he and his escort had departed the dame "shooed" away the hens and then industriously picked up the assorted fragments of the airplane for firewood.—Montreal Herald.

Tunes for Tanks.

Probably no more unique donation has ever been made for the amusement of soldiers than one of $50 recently given by a charitably disposed lady for gramophone records to equip a tank.

Other donations which have come to light from time to time have lacked an element of the picturesque, as, for instance, the supplying of a hospital in Paris which was filled with African troops with 700 fans. They were so appreciated during the summer months that the hospital appealed for more. Not long ago a French officer issued an appeal for games for his men. In one regiment in which most of the soldiers were fathers of families the preference was for bowling. The trench does not make a bad alley.

Women's Club's Markets Own Products

The women of a Tennessee home demonstration club are marketing their own vegetables, small fruits, egg-poultry, butter and cottage cheese with the help of the local home demonstration agent. A table has been secured for them at the entrance to the market house, where the products are attractively displayed. Since none of the women had experience in dressing fowls for market, the agent called a meeting at one of the homes and showed them the proper way to kill and dress poultry. The club members are making a specialty of week-end baskets. Ordinary peck baskets are used and are filled to order to meet the tastes of the purchasers.

Cub Bear Caused Excitement.

A cub bear, about ten months old, caused much excitement at Moose Lake, Minn., the other day when it walked into town and scratched at the back door of a local restaurant. The cook thought it was the owner's dog. Her discovery that it was not began a series of activities in the kitchen which could have been equaled only by the bursting of a high explosive shell. When the cause of the disturbance was learned the men of the town formed an escort and drove the cub back to its haunts. Bears are protected by law and for that reason it was not killed.
